CITY PLANS ELABORATE WELCOME FOR THE GLORIOUS "FOURTH"

Local Observance of Independence Day Will Include Salutes by Bombs and Battery, Bell Ringing, Band Concerts, South Common Midway and Two Brilliant Displays of Fireworks—Midway to Open at 6 O'Clock Tonight

2 COL HD FRONT CITY PLANS Lowell tomorrow will celebrate the 142nd anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, with salutes, bell ringing, band concerts, the time-honored midway on the South common and fireworks displays in the evening that bid fair to eclipse all other pyrotechnic exhibitions ever arranged as a part of the celebrations of other years.

It may be fairly said that the fireworks being supplied by the city this month come with superlative recommendations and the contracting company has promised one of the most gorgeous and thrilling displays ever given in this part of the country. The displays are being arranged by the Antinelli Fireworks Co. of Rochester, N. Y., at a cost of $1200, with a clause in the contract that the city will be under no obligation if not satisfactory in every respect. The company, also, will supply bombs for the salutes to be fired from the summit of Fort Hill at sunrise, noon and sunset. According to present plans, the presidential salute of 21 reports will be fired morning and night, with the national salute at 12 noon.

Liquor Squad Active Over Week-End—Big Raid in Dracut

The sum of $973 was assessed in district court this morning by Associate Justice John J. Pickman, who occupied the bench in the absence of Judge Thomas J. Enright. Of this amount all but $83 resulted from infractions of the liquor laws. Eight persons were fined for illegal keeping, the sum amounting to $885, while seven men paid a total of $25 for drunkenness. Violations of the auto laws and a statutory offense were responsible for the remainder of the money. With the exception of $209, all the money was handed to the clerk. THOS. F. MAGUIRE DEAD

Old Member of Sun Staff Died Suddenly After Period of Failing Health

It is with the most sincere sorrow that The Sun is called upon to record the death of an old member of its staff, in the passing of Thomas F. Maguire, for over thirty years ad-

THOMAS F. MAGUIRE

Using solicitor for this paper. He died suddenly Sunday night as the result of a shock, at the home of Mr. John J. Corcoran, 435 Fletcher street, where he resided. He had been in failing health since the death of his wife about two years ago, but was able to attend in part to his duties at The Sun office up to and including last Saturday.

Mr. Maguire was born in London in 1857 and was brought to this city by his "aunt" when six months old. He was educated in the public schools and on leaving school, he was apprenticed to learn the confectionery business. After serving three years, he entered the service of Nichols & Hutchins, then a prominent confectionery firm on Central street, eventually becoming foreman, in which capacity he served about seven years. Still later he started in the candy business on his own account, but eventually sold out and entered the employ of the Morning Times as advertising solicitor. In 1889 he joined The Sun staff, and remained continuously in this position until his death. Before his illness he was one of the most cheerful of men, always genial, jovial and optimistic. But from the death of his wife, he was a changed man, and broken in spirit under the weight of sorrow, his health rapidly failed. He leaves one son, Thos. M.; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Burns, and several nephews and nieces. He was a member of Court Merrimack, F. of A., and the Lowell "A. O. U. M. W." club. The funeral will take place from his late home on Fletcher street, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, with a solemn high mass at St. Patrick's church at 10 o'clock.

STRIKE IS EXPECTED AT MERRIMACK MILLS

That there will be a strike at the Merrimack Mfg. Co., next Monday is evident by the activity that is being shown by the unorganized employees of the mill, who are dissatisfied with the announcement of a reduction in wages made last week by agent Wadleigh, and which is scheduled to go into effect Monday, July 10. As far as the organized employees of the mill are concerned, the mandate issued last February by the International body of the United Textile Workers of America, practically compels them to refuse the proposed reduction.

During the past few days several delegations of the unorganized employees of the mill have conferred with the officials of the local strike committee and Lowell Textile council for the purpose of discussing the situation as it exists, irrespective of what the reduction will be, and at the request of these delegations it was announced today that a mass meeting of the unorganized employees

$90,000 FIRE LOSS AT OLD ORCHARD

OLD ORCHARD, Me., July 3.—Two large buildings in the heart of the business section here were destroyed by fire yesterday, which at one time threatened to sweep the town. Many cottages caught fire from the sparks and bucket brigades were busy at many points. Help was sent from the fire departments of Portland, Saco and Biddeford. It was nearly three hours before the flames were under control. The loss was estimated at $90,000.

The fire started in a small refreshment stand in the building owned by W. L. White on Old Orchard street and quickly spread to the rest of the building. Several customers had barely time to escape to the street.

The building was occupied by Mr. White's restaurant and cafeteria and the drug store of King E. Sears and George T. Hinchcliffe. The other building destroyed was occupied by Mr. White's bowling alley on the first floor and rooms for his restaurant employees on the second. Mr. White's garage also was damaged. Arthur Hyde and Parker Tarbox were overcome by the heat and smoke while assisting the fire fighters.

Yeast No "Fad" Say Scientists

The greatest scientific minds agree that yeast is one of the most important medical discoveries. No method of banishing skin eruptions or building health has yet been found which can equal it. This is because yeast contains certain vital elements which are lacking in the modern diet. Already millions of people have secured amazing benefits from yeast. Recently, however, a new process has been discovered, called "ironization," through which people are securing benefits from yeast in just half the usual time. This process, embodied only in Ironized Yeast, helps to immediately convert the vital yeast elements into firm tissue and rich pure blood. If weak, thin or run down—or if troubled with pimples, blackheads or boils, it will pay you to try Ironized Yeast at once. To try Ironized Yeast entirely free simply mail postcard for Famous 3-Day Free Test. Address Ironized Yeast Co., Dept. 57, Atlanta, Ga. Ironized Yeast is recommended and guaranteed by all good druggists.—Adv.

HERE TO LIVE AND DIE

YOUNG HANS

OLD YETTA.

ELLIS ISLAND, July 3.—Hans Quintin, 13, will shoot his first firecracker this Fourth of July. "Then I'll be a real American boy," he told the Ellis Island authorities, his eyes sparkling. "Just as I've dreamed of being for a long, long time."

Hans passed the "Island" bound from Bernburg, Germany, for Rome, N. Y., alone.

His mother died when he was a baby. He lived with his father.

"One day," he said, "my papa was taken to the war. I never saw him again."

"My grandma took me. She was good, but I hated the country. It took my papa away from me. My aunt asked me to come to America. I was getting ready—when this country went into the war, too. I was so disappointed. But I kept on reading about America. I read about George Washington. I liked him because he was a regular boy, chopping down trees and having fun. Look what he grew up to be! And I read about Huck Finn."

"Now at last, I'm here. I'm so glad."

I'll shoot firecrackers. I'll play. I'll go to school. And when I'm a man I'm going to make automobiles and be a regular American."

Hans has been adopted by his aunt, Mrs. Gus Schieve, at Rome, N. Y. Hans Quintin came to America to live. Yetta Kvintinsky came to die—in peace.

She is not more than 65, but tragedy has aged her—she is very old.

"I am from Russia," she said. "I had a family there once, but they have been scattered for 26 years. One by one, they had to flee. My youngest son went last—six years ago."

"He left his wife and children with me, hoping to send for them when he had made a home in America. But conditions grew worse. We couldn't wait. We risked our lives stealing across the frontier. Finally we are out of soviet Russia."

"My son was trying hard. At last he got a newspaper route in Chicago. Then he sent for us."

The wrinkled old woman glanced about her.

"It's so quiet here," she said, "so calm."

"It's hard on a woman as old as I to leave home, but I'm glad to be in America—in this beautiful land."

"Now—I can die—in peace."

"Pooh!" said her grandson, aged 8, coming up. "Dad! Nothing doing! We're here to live. That's what America's for."

Mrs. Kvintinsky has gone now, with her daughter-in-law and grandchildren, to join her son in the west—for their first American Fourth of July.

ROOF FIRE

A still alarm at 12:15 o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to 27 Ward street for a slight roof fire.

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-SIX YEARS YOUNG TODAY

JULY FOURTH HOLIDAY OF PATRIOTISM

In his sermon at All Souls' church yesterday morning, Rev. Arthur C. McGiffert, Jr., called for the same serious thought of country as worshippers give to religious observance of Sunday. "Patriotism, like religion, needs its holy day," said the pastor, and pointed to the Fourth of July as the holy day of American patriotism.

Patriotism and religion are closely allied, he said, and should be given consideration together.

"Let us give a little thought to this America of ours," he continued, "for Americans, for all their commercial interests and thoughtless follies, are extremely susceptible to idealism."

"What other nation, while rejecting the principle of a state church, maintains through the voluntary gifts of its population vast organizations for worship, as if to testify that it has not only territory to develop and products to sell, but a soul to save? What other nation ever receives an indemnity from a foreign government and gave it back? When did another nation win territory and return it to its occupants as in Cuba or hold it in trust as in the Philippines? When did ever another nation at the end of a war like that with Spain transport the defeated army to their homes across the seas? or when did another nation, having taken possession of a strip of land and at an enormous expense build a canal, satisfy its conscience by a voluntary payment to the former owners, or to open the canal on equal terms to the fleets of the world? Idealism runs deep in the veins of America."

"Only within a month the deep sea waters have swept their ideas across the scuttled hulls of proud and powerful battleships—triangle results of the conference called by this country to consider the limitation of armament. Scattered may say that idealism but plain commercial motive prompted that course. It seemed good business. But let us not forget that good brotherly morals and good business are never really opposed. To believe in God is to be convinced that godliness is profitable. The Godlike, and that for us means the Christlike, course always pays in the long run, and so other courses can pay permanently in a world framed and controlled by a Christlike God."

GRAND JURY MINUTES OF WARD INDICTMENT

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 2.—Alan R. Campbell, counsel for Walter S. Ward, who is under indictment charged with the murder of Clarence Peters, former sailor, today received from Dist. Atty. Weeks a copy of the grand jury minutes on which his client was indicted.

Word was received at the same time from Supreme Court Justice Morchauer that he would be back in White Plains next Thursday morning and would then take up the charge of conspiracy to defeat the ends of justice which have been made against George S. Ward, father of the accused. The elder Ward remained out of the state while the grand jury subpoena had been issued for his appearance here.

COAKLEY DISBARRED BY U. S. CIRCUIT COURTS

BOSTON, July 2.—Daniel H. Coakley was today ordered disbarred from the practice of law in the United States Circuit courts of appeals by a decision of the court. United States Dist. Atty. Harris filed the disbarment petition which was based on the decision of the Massachusetts supreme court in ordering Coakley disbarred from state court practice.

Coakley's name figured prominently in the recent removal proceedings brought successfully against Joseph C. Peltier, former district attorney of Suffolk county.

Fourth of July in Lowell

ional salute of 42 reports being shot off at noon.

But they will assist in the salutes.

A daylight program of fireworks will be shown on the South common at 6:30 p. m., including many bombs and more than a score of set and display pieces. The big display will begin at 9 o'clock and will continue without interruption for one hour. In this display will be 80 set pieces, many of which are most pretentious. A 20-by-24-foot silk flag will be unfurled from an aerial bomb to the property of the person who clutches it just before it flutters to the ground; two battleships will fight in mid-air and as one goes down under the effects of a sweeping barrage, the flag will run up to the masthead of the other as a symbol of victory. Niagara Falls, 300 feet in length, will run in three colors; two carrier pigeons will be catapulted from an aerial bomb and once in the air will carry messages back to the company's headquarters in Rochester, N. Y.; St. Anne's church, 1444 and Whitney monument and a facsimile of Mayor George H. Brown will be portrayed in sputtering flame and bursting bombs and the air will be rent and torn by the detonation of more than 1500 aerial bombs, many of which explode scores of times before expiration.

All in all, it is a display of unusual magnitude and should attract thousands of persons to the common.

Plant concerts have not been forgotten as a part of the day's celebration. On the South common, the Lowell Military band will give a pre-liminary in the afternoon between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock, while Aiken's band will play from 7 to 9 p. m.

The Lowell Cadet band will give a concert on the North common from 6 to 8 p. m. and Aiken's band will play at Washington park from 5 o'clock. Regan's Military band will play on the dedication of the three squares in the forenoon.

With two complete carnivals and more than 100 concessions, the big midway will open on the South common at 6 o'clock this evening. If the weather is fair, it will run for the pleasure of thousands until midnight tomorrow, but should the rains descend tonight sufficiently to seriously curtail the business, another day will be allowed by Supt. John W. Kernan of the park department, who has special authority under the state law, which says that a celebration may be continued on the 4th, if city or town officials so desire. Present plans, however, call for closing at midnight tomorrow, at the expiration of 24 hours.

Every sort of a concession, is already in place in the common, arranged in avenues that extend from South street to Thorndike street and up one of the walks as far as the Edison school. The entire playstead also is taken up. There are palmists, shows and exhibitions, merry-go-rounds, Ferris wheels and doll games, African dodgers and many other features that have become prominent parts of this form of amusement.

A first aid station will be opened at the common tonight and will be in charge of physicians and nurses of the board of health.

BIRTHDAY OF A NATION

BY BERTON BRALEY

FOURTH OF JULY! It's a day inspirational Which we can celebrate loud as we will. Banners and cannon and speeches sensational Serve to express only part of our thrill! Though we may show a bombastic proclivity, We have a reason, you cannot deny: This is the day of a nation's nativity. Fourth of July!

BOAST! Why, of course, we do! Shout till we're hoarse, we do. Turn out in force, we do. Hearts beating high! Fire-crackers hurled about. Sky-rockets swirled about. We'll tell the world about Fourth of July!

WHAT if we seem to be sneering perfervidly? This is SOME COUNTRY, we know for a fact! So, on this day, we shall show unreservedly Just how we feel by the way that we act! Proud? Sure we are, and we make it no mystery—Read it, in letters of fire, on the sky: This is the best of the dates in our history, Fourth of July!

COME, be by choice a bit Noisy! Rejoice a bit! Lift up your voice a bit. Do not be shy; SOME COUNTRY! SAY it is! Tell 'em the way it is, YOU know what day it is—Fourth of July!

Tom Sims Says

And now in the course of human events it becomes necessary for enlightened folk to celebrate.

Exactly 146 years ago today Philadelphia was all excited. She hasn't been excited since.

No one knows how she knew it was the Fourth. Perhaps it was because the banks were closed.

On this day John Hancock wished he had a fountain pen to borrow instead of a goose quill.

Then he scratched his "John Hancock" and Great Britain was given her independence.

There were exactly 13 states represented. This number was very unlucky for King George.

We shot at George's soldiers seven years before they all got mad and went home.

And ever since the British have been getting even by sending lecturers over here.

After chasing George's soldiers things seemed so quiet we began shooting firecrackers.

Every Fourth of July we take a day off and some people take a few fingers off.

But after 146 years' practice in celebrating we are gradually learning better ways.

All the city people go to the country and all the country people come to town.

Fourth of July picnickers always make the country roadways put in their bills for overtime.

Country ants that have never eaten a human and great feasts in store for them.

Birds that have never had a rock thrown at them won't be able to say the same tomorrow.

And the country folk in town are wearing the edges off the buildings looking at them.

Many a pair of shoes were surprised today when they saw their first sidewalk.

And there are patriotic gatherings where folk wish they knew the words to our national anthem.

We favor a safe and sane Fourth of July. There are 365 days in every year. Why not have one of these 365 safe and sane?

LICENSE BOARD GRANTS PERMITS

The license commission met this afternoon and after a short session adjourned to the South common, where permits were issued for the various entertainment stands erected there.

Yesterday afternoon two or three men were detected getting their booths ready. Upon being advised of this condition, Capt. Patrie detailed Sgt. Frawley to the scene with orders to have the work stopped. When Sgt. Frawley called the attention of the men to the fact that they were violating a Sunday ordinance, work ceased.

TO ATTEND OUTING AT CARLISLE

A large contingent from Roosevelt Council No. 46 have signified their intention of attending the joint outing of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty to be held tomorrow at Carlisle. The return will be made in time to enjoy the fireworks on the common.

READY FOR THE FOURTH

Another street hill from Fayette to High streets will be opened for traffic tomorrow morning. This stretch recently has been smooth-paved.

SECESSION OF BRITISH COLONIES IN AMERICA

BY WALTER A. DYER.

The United States of America has been an independent nation for so long that it is difficult to think of ourselves as once a part and a loyal part of the British empire.

It was one hundred and forty-six years ago that the British colonies in America decided that the only thing they could do to protect themselves against unfair government was to secede.

And so the Declaration of Independence was solemnly signed.

This action was not taken because the Englishmen in America hated the Englishman in Great Britain. Many of them had friends and relatives in the mother country, and they had grown up to own allegiance to a king. Nor was it at first, because of any overwhelming desire to set up a separate rule on this continent.

Against the Whigs

The revolt was, in fact, not so much against England as against a political party in England, the Old Whigs, who, under the leadership of Lord North and others, largely controlled the actions of George III, and sought to establish a corrupt government for their own profit.

There were men in England, like William Pitt, who also fought against this tyranny, but they were kept down by military and political power and by the prestige of royalty.

The Englishmen over here had a better chance to rebel because they were far away and so were more difficult to control.

Little by little the American colonists made their protests felt, and the ill-advised king and the party in power undertook to silence these protests by acts of punishment. They deprived American Englishmen of ancient rights and the colonists replied with more vigorous protests and with evasions of unjust laws.

Parting of the Ways

And so, gradually, they came to the parting of the ways.

It must be remembered, also, that people in those days, all over the world, took a less liberal view of the position and rights of dependences than they do today.

Colonies were very generally considered as commercial enterprises, and the officers of the central organization felt that, since they had invested their money in the venture, they had a perfect right to dictate how the branch office should be run.

Now, at last, I'm here. I'm so glad.

FIREMEN WILL PLAY BROCKTON TEAM

A baseball game between the Second Shift team of the local fire department and the Brockton team of the Brockton fire department is scheduled to be played on the South common on Monday afternoon, July 3, at 2 o'clock. The game will be played under the "weather permitting" clause. The "weather permitting" clause is now being included in all agreements for games between teams of the various fire departments, because several games have had to be called off during the past few weeks because of inclement weather. One July 31 the local players will journey to Brockton to cross bats with the First Shift team of the department of that city. It is also expected that other games will soon be arranged with the Derry, N. H., Revere and other fire department teams.

Engine and Cars Piled Up

The fact that the train was composed of solid steel coaches probably kept the death list down. A relief train bearing the injured reached Atlantic City about 5 a. m. But it could not be definitely learned how many persons it carried. Two of the injured whose names have not been learned, died on the way to this city. Four physicians, who had given first aid enroute, were joined at the hospital by nearly every doctor in the city in an effort to save the lives of a number reported seriously hurt.

Rescuers, headed by volunteer fire department of Hammoncton and the state police, worked for several hours under the glare of searchlights removing the dead and injured from the wreckage. The scene had been plunged into darkness when the engine struck an electric light pole, clipping it off near the ground and severing the wire that carried the power for illumination. The rescuers also were handicapped by the steep bank up which the victims had to be carried. Ladders of the fire department were brought into play for this purpose.

Most of the injured were brought to a local hospital. An early check up showed all of them residing in Atlantic City, other South Jersey towns, or Philadelphia.

The wreck occurred at the point where trains for all seashore points south of Atlantic City, turn to the south at the junction.

Reportedly a switch had been set for a Cape May bound train, but that the express from Camden came along first.

The train carried five day coaches and a parlor car. It carried eighty-nine passengers. The express was running at high speed when it reached the curve and its momentum caused it to leave the rails and fall down an embankment.

The locomotive and the first day coach, which was empty, turned on their side. The parlor car, which was crowded with passengers, rolled over and landed upside down on the locomotive and the next four cars, all day coaches, turned over on their side.

Engineers Present Many Deaths. HAMMONCTON, N. J., July 3.—Details of the wreck show that the train, running at a high rate of speed, crossed a switch set for a freight, plowed ahead for about 60 feet and toppled over a high embankment.

When upon the tracks of the Cape May branch of the Pennsylvania railroad. A parlor car was crushed under the huge engine which in turn was mangled under a club car. Only one car in the train remained on the track.

Among the passengers were many American Legion men, some of whom had been ambulance workers in the army. Their quick work prevented many deaths.

The rescuers worked for an hour to extract one man who was wedged under the frightful weight of one car, encouraged and urged by the man who was suffering untold agony. He died just as he was lifted from his steel prison.

A bride of a few days watched the removal of her husband from the wreckage of twisted steel. His back was found broken.

Too hysterical to give her name, the bride and her husband were put aboard a hospital train for Atlantic City.

A wrecking train from Camden arrived only this morning at Winslow Junction and began the removal of the wreckage as an aid to physicians and Red Cross workers in locating the bodies of the dead and wounded.

Sent Messages Then Fainted. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 3.—The relief train that left here in answer to calls for assistance returned early today with three dead and 40 injured. A relief train from Camden carried some injured to that city.

Sixteen women and children were among the injured to arrive here. The first news of the wreck to reach here was shortly after midnight, when the townsmen at Winslow Junction flashed a message that the train had gone off on the wrong track. The Atlantic City station tried to get the townsmen back to ascertain the details but could not raise him as he had fainted.

Heroism of Young Man. Survivors told of the heroism of a man whose initials were given as "J. T. L." His name could not be learned. He was caught between two seats with three dead on top of him. Although one arm was ripped off, he shouted directions to the rescuers how to get inside to reach the dead and injured. He lived a few minutes after he had been rescued.

Labor Board Bars Strikers. Continued. men today turned to developments depending on the canvass at Detroit today of the strike vote of 100,000 maintenance of way employees and action by their union officials.

Two days of the strike of shop craftsmen have failed, according to reports, to interfere seriously with transportation or to produce a definite statement of the number of men out.

Edward F. Grable, president of the maintenance of way employees, who returned to Detroit after conferences here with officials of other unions, today apparently held the key to the strike situation and upon him hopes for averting further walkouts largely were banked.

Grable, on the completeness and effectiveness of the shopmen strike differed according to the sources. Union officials asserted that the walkout was virtually 100 per cent, and would seriously hamper railroad operations.

Railway executives tentatively fixed 50 per cent as the maximum number out. In some rail centers, pickets were in preparation for replacing strikers with workers under open shop arrangements.

Passenger traffic since the strike began is reported by the roads to have been exceptionally heavy owing to holiday travel.

The United States railroad labor board marked time pending further developments.

Ask to be Released. It was reported at St. Louis late last night that striking Pennsylvania shopmen had asked to be reinstated four days after they were released on non-strike rights, but the report could not be verified.

Advices of the first impairment of train service came from Corbin, Ky., where it was said lack of motive equipment had forestalled the movement of 2,000 cars of coal. At least one passenger train was delayed for more than an hour, it was learned.

Threaten to Close Shops. Shopmen of the Michigan Central, who walked out at Jackson, Mich., have been given until July 15 to return. Unless the men come back, General Manager Shearer of Detroit is quoted as saying the railroad probably will close down permanently a large part of the shops in Jackson and have the work done in eastern shops.

Harry L. Nelson, chairman of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway system, issued a statement at Nashville.

He said that the railroad was not in a position to accept the strikers' demand for reinstatement without a reduction in wages.

ville, Tenn., asserting that politics and unfairness to labor were mixed in railroad decisions. He said that with the exception of one increase granted in July, 1920, practically every decision handed down has been against the employees. "The decisions except wages that have been decided against the railroad, have been disregarded by the largest railroads of the country," he said.

Pickets on Duty. NEW YORK, July 3.—Several contingents of pickets were sent to strike centers in the New York district today and union leaders set out for outlying points to assist in organizing strikers for systematic picket duty in accordance with plans made at the organization meeting of the general strike committee.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford road, which is identified to New Haven on its New York division, and has arranged to secure power from various electric and traction companies between the two division terminals, if necessary.

Discrediting reports that maintenance of way men were planning to join the strike, and that a decision to this effect was expected from Detroit today, local railroad executives said they were confident the maintenance men would not be led into the strike after feeling the results of the first few days of the shop strike. Labor leaders, however, pointed to the report that 200 maintenance men at Elizabeth, N. J., had voted to strike as soon as they can get permission from international headquarters, and asserted that some of the right of way track workers were already out.

Marine Workers Not to Join. NEW YORK, July 3.—Organized marine workers will take no steps to support the railroad strike or in their strike, Thomas Healy, secretary of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, announced today. He asserted the marines did not propose any action in sympathy with the rail unions because the latter failed to aid the maritime crafts in the unauthorized strike of 1920.

No Change in Connecticut. NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 3.—Conditions at the shops of the New Haven road in Connecticut were unchanged this morning. It was stated by the railroad management that the train schedule, passenger and freight on Sunday were carried out in a normal way. It was also asserted that two unskilled men had been hired to fill the places of strikers.

John C. Ready, chairman of the local strike organization of the New Haven road, said that the shopmen had not yet taken any action. He said the men object to the local union which has been set up by the railroad.

Mayor Has Offer. Continued. In an attempt to restrain the purchasing agent from taking any action on bids received for sheet asphalt and asphalt concrete early this spring, Chester L. Williams, former county commissioner, is the company's representative and one of its corporate officers, and the injunction was sought by him when he claimed that the contract had been promised to his concern.

The proposal submitted to the mayor or has been turned over to the City Engineer Stephen Kearney and today the latter addressed a letter to the Framingham company asking for specifications and more detailed information concerning the proposal.

The mayor said, in discussing the matter, that he has authorized the board of public service to enter into such a contract, if it so desires.

"The board has my permission to contract with the Framingham company for some of this asphalt work," said the mayor. "I do not think it would be a very large contract, but one or two of the small jobs might be selected so that the merit of the work might be judged."

Engineer Kearney said that he has written the Framingham company for specifications and if they seem satisfactory he will have no hesitancy in awarding a contract for some of the work proposed.

Also, the mayor stated today that he has authorized the board of public service to immediately take steps to have the Central bridge permanently repaired and open for travel. This would include gunning, if necessary.

Strike Is Expected. Continued. of the mill will be held at the headquarters of the Lowell Textile council in Central street, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings of this week at 10 o'clock.

The proposed readjustment of wages as announced by the agent will be discussed from every angle and then it is proposed to have the workers take a strike vote. Frank Stimpson, secretary of the strike committee explained today that the organized workers of the mill will not be requested to take a strike vote, for all they have to do is to live up to the mandate issued by the U. T. W. and that is to quit work as soon as a reduction in wages is announced.

For the purpose of further discussing the action of the Merrimack mills and the strike conditions in general in this city, a meeting of all the presidents of the various locals affiliated with the U. T. W. of A. has been called for next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the quarters of the Lowell Textile council. On Wednesday evening of this week a general meeting of the strike committee will be held at headquarters at 7.30 o'clock.

President John Hanley of the Lowell Textile council this morning secured a permit for a mass meeting of all the strikers and the employees of Merrimack mills for next Sunday evening on the South common. Prominent local and out-of-town speakers will address the gathering. The meeting will be held at 7 o'clock.

The street department has completed three concrete bases for lighthouse traffic lights to be installed at busy intersections in different parts of the city. Seven of these bases, now chased some time ago, will be erected and points already decided upon include Merrimack square, Depot square, Tower's corner and Bridge and First streets. Three other intersections will be selected within the next fortnight.

MORE OFFICERS REACH CAMP DEVENS

CAMP DEVENS, July 3.—Forty-seven additional regular army officers are arriving at this cantonment to participate in the training of the R.O.T.C. now being held here for young college men who are taking a six weeks' course with a view to receiving commissions in the organized reserve of the United States army.

These additional officers, whose rank ranges from that of major to second lieutenant, come under orders from the war department, and when their tour of duty with the R.O.T.C. is completed they will take part in training the 3000 New England boys who are due here Aug. 1 for a month's training as members of the Citizens' military training camp.

The new officers have been undergoing a course of training themselves, some at the Infantry school at Camp Benning, Ga., and the others at the Cavalry school at Fort Riley, Kan.

During the past week the young college men completed their course of firing on the range, and despite the fact that the weather has been very hot every day in the pits. Of the entire personnel of the R.O.T.C., 33.2 per cent, qualified on the range in both rifle and pistol marksmanship, and only one man qualified as expert marksman in both rifle and pistol. He is Tom Purcell, of the University of Vermont football player, who lives at Burlington, Vt.

Nine more men joined the R.O.T.C. camp during the past week, all from Massachusetts Agricultural college. They are Howard Bates, John D. Simeon, Norman D. Hillyard, Elyrie C. Johnson, Robert F. R. Martin, Wallace E. Paddeok, Edward T. Sumner, Carl Braun and Fred Toey. The last two men named will take cavalry training and all the rest will seek commissions in the infantry.

Cavalry Starts Soon
The cavalry platoon which is receiving instruction from Lieut. Frank P. Tompkins of Norwich university, will begin mounted drill this week, and needless to say those who are in the basic cavalry squad are looking forward to it with keen anticipation. The rest of the camp during the coming week will receive instruction in field engineering, machine gun work, infantry drill and physical training.

The weather has held up the sporting side of the training to a considerable degree, but the boys have managed to get in a surprising amount of practice on the diamond. With the assistance of Norman Hillyard, shortstop of the M.A.C. nine, and Elyrie Johnson, one of the Argyle's best pitchers, they hope to do things to the 3d Cavalry team when the game between the two outfits comes off.

Among the other college athletes who are taking the course there is Henry Semansky, one of University of Vermont's mainstays on the gridiron. The R. O. T. C. men were keenly interested in the arrival of the heavy artillery which came into camp during the past week. There were four big 155 mm. guns. These guns will be used by the 101st and 104th Infantry Regiments, which are being trained here during the summer. The detachment consisted of two officers and 34 men.

All Ready for Guardsmen
Everything is in readiness for the Massachusetts National Guardsmen, who will begin to arrive here next Saturday. They will function as a brigade during their training this year, and the whole outfit will be under command of Brig. Gen. Edw. L. Logan. The Massachusetts outfit which will come here for their two weeks' training include the 101st and 104th Infantry Regiments, the 122d Field Artillery, the 26th Division Signal Company and the 2d Separate Battalion (expelled) and several other auxiliary outfits. The 1st Squadron, Connecticut Cavalry, will also come here for training during the same period.

De Valera's Aide in Command
It was expected that the 103d Infantry and the 122d Field Artillery would arrive at Devens on July 6 for their training. Orders postponing their arrival until July 18 have been issued, however. Capt. Sweeney announced yesterday that while he is not directly interested in the enrolling of New England boys

RUM-RUNNING PLANE SEIZED IN MAINE TOWN

PORTLAND, Me., July 3.—The seaplane which was forced to land at Jonesport, resulting in the arrest of E. K. Jaquith of Atlantic City, its pilot, and W. T. Strout, of this city, who claimed to be only a passenger, was to have delivered its cargo of 230 quarts of whiskey to a motor boat at Half Way Rock, miles east of the entrance to Portland harbor. Sheriff King Graham announced today after his deputies had arrested Roy Savage of this city.

With the capture of Savage, who was taken early in the morning near the beach at Underwood Springs, the deputy sheriffs seized an automobile and 140 quarts of whiskey found in it. They chased a companion of Savage across a field, but were unable to catch him. Sheriff Graham did not reveal the source of his information prior to the arraignment of Savage which was expected to take place during the day, but it was known that his deputy had been keeping a close watch for several nights on the shore at Underwood Springs, at Falmouth, Maine, presumably as a result of information received.

front of the buildings particularly pressing the attack on Hannon's hotel, where Eamon de Valera is believed to be holding out following his flight from the Gresham club.

Drig. Gen. Maguire Captured
A number of irregulars were surrounded in the streets of Mullingar by national army troops and placed under arrest. One of those captured was Brigadier General Maguire, commanding the First Eastern Division of the Irish republican army insurgents. The prisoners were conveyed to the military barracks.

11 Killed, 16 Wounded
It is generally believed the task of clearing the republicans out of the Sackville street area will prove difficult, and involve heavy property damage, particularly in view of the report that they are commanded by such experienced fighters and "old hands" as Eamon de Valera, Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess), Austin Stack and Oscar Traynor.

Casualties in Sunday's fighting here were 11 killed and 16 wounded. Stephens' Green Club Falls
The Stephens' Green club, which had been held by the irregulars since Friday, was captured by national army forces today. The irregulars had evacuated the position.

Ten irregulars, occupying Cassidy's saloon on Summer hill, off Parnell street, surrendered before noon. In accordance with orders from the republican leaders, Father Albert and the Delahuntys, who have been with the irregulars in the Gresham hotel, have left the hotel premises.

Glenveagh Castle Fortified
BELFAST, July 3.—Glenveagh castle, in Donegal, has for some time been occupied by the republicans and now is being put in a strongly defensive condition. The windows have been shuttered with steel, and mines have been laid in the approach to the castle, and machine guns put in position. Many republicans are reported to be concentrating in the castle.

The Launty bridge spanning the River Fane between Inniskeen and Castlignagney, County Monaghan, on the South Ulster branch of the northern railroad has been blown up. The explosion was heard 13 miles away, in Dundalk.

De Valera's Aide in Command
LONDON, July 3.—Erskine Childers, one of Eamon de Valera's chief aides, is declared in a Dublin despatch to the Central News to be commanding a party of irregulars, which is entrenching in the Dublin mountains from towns and villages outside the city.

Confirm De Valera in Garrison
LONDON, July 3. (By the Associated Press).—According to an Evening Standard despatch from Dublin this afternoon, the priests sent away from the Gresham hotel by the republicans confirmed the report that Eamon de Valera was with the beleaguered garrison.

The message quotes one of the priests as saying, regarding the republican leader: "He is there all right. He almost cried as I shook hands with him." The message adds that the lord mayor, who with the archbishop of Dublin acted last evening as intermediary between the nationals and the besieged republicans has been made prisoner.

WILL HOLD OUTING AT CANOBIE LAKE PARK

The annual outing under the auspices of the Angel Guardian sodality of St. Joseph's parish for all members of the parish will take place at Canobie Lake park Thursday, July 13, and according to arrangements the affair promises to be one of the most elaborate in the history of the organization.

The arrangements for the event are in charge of Rev. Aurelion Merelli, O. M.I., spiritual director of the society, who is being assisted by the following committee of members: Francis Matto, president; A. DeMarzio, vice-president; Arthur Ouellette and Raymond Alexander.

As in previous years the outing will be for the members of the sodality, their parents and friends, and in fact any member of the parish, who wishes to spend a very enjoyable day at the popular resort. Arrangements have been made for five special electric cars to convey the excursionists to the outing grounds and, if necessary, more cars will be chartered. The party will leave the junction of Merrimack and Allen streets at 8.30 o'clock. At the lake a varied program of sporting events, which will include a baseball game, tennis, croquet, and other amusements, as well as numerous races of all descriptions will be carried out and valuable prizes will be awarded the winners. Several clergymen, as well as male members of the parish, will be on hand to look after the welfare of the children and it is expected that a general good time will be enjoyed by all.

In the Sackville street area the rifles of the irregulars were visible from the windows of the big buildings occupied by the nationalists. The insurgents effectively paraded. The insurgents showed unrelenting activity in sniping recklessly. It was dangerous to attempt to approach their positions.

Passing cars with national troops were engaged at a considerable range, and yesterday afternoon heavy bursts of machine gun fire were frequent when the nationals blazed at the windows of the fortified buildings.

The leaders of the irregulars, including Eamon de Valera, Cathal Brugha and Oscar Traynor, who is reported to be at the head of the Dublin irregulars, and Countess Markievicz are all said to be in this area. The republican "War News" asserts that the rebel forces in Dublin have been reinforced both in men and material.

An official bulletin issued at general headquarters at 10.30 o'clock last night describes the evening operations of the national troops. They advanced in three directions, attacking the posts held by the irregulars, driving out the occupants and taking some prisoners. It specifies certain buildings occupied and says that during the operations several mines laid by the irregulars were exploded.

A tunnel, apparently for the purpose of escape, was found parallel to Parnell square. Many of the insurgents escaped in Marlborough street area through breaches in the adjoining houses when their poses were attacked.

It confirms the capture of Moran's, Hughes' and McArthur's hotels with 11 prisoners. The irregulars are still in possession of hotels and other buildings in Sackville street, but are completely invested, and the advance continues.

The bulletin adds that the regulars are receiving the whole-hearted support of the civilian population. One of the most important successes of the regulars was in Moran's hotel. An 18-pounder was turned against it and after the third shot the rebels rushed from the hotel and crossed the street into a hotel opposite. In a few minutes, however, they hoisted the white flag and surrendered. Their casualties are not believed to be serious.

Another rebel outpost captured last evening was the Swan hotel in York street opposite Stevens bridge. The attack was made from an armored car with machine guns. The rebels replied vigorously from behind the fortifications, and the engagement continued for several hours. The walls of the hotel were shelled and battered and in the evening the rebels retreated, leaving three wounded behind.

Harcourt terrace also was taken, with about 18 prisoners. Thirty irregulars were captured in Adelaide road by a sudden rush of the nationals.

400 Rebels Captured
DUBLIN, July 3. (By the Associated Press).—The national troops were victorious in the battle in Dublin yesterday. Early in the evening they opened with a heavy fire and several rebel strongholds were captured, together with nearly 400 prisoners.

An official bulletin issued shortly before 9 o'clock last night says: "Thirty irregulars who occupied Moran's hotel are now in our hands, as is also the section bounded by Talbot, Purdon Amiens and Gardiner streets."

"Gen. Ennis telephoned at 8.20 that the irregulars have been driven from eight positions they held."

A fresh outbreak of firing occurred in many parts of Dublin and throughout the city, there has been increased activity on the part of the nationals and heavy concentrations at tactical points. Free State troops began occupying the buildings commanding the field of fire to the principal buildings in possession of the irregulars.

Dublin yesterday presented an aspect of inexpressible dreariness; a driving rain left the streets deserted, trams ceased running, and the only traffic appeared to be armored cars and dozens of ambulances rushing from point to point collecting the toll of the snipers' bullets.

and a half to the name of her sister, Mrs. Patrick Kevill, 5 Barton street. There she said nothing about her narrow escape from death or her two wounds.

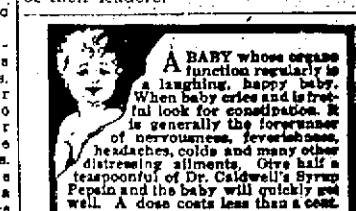

Mr. Kevill noticed that she was becoming faint. He asked her if she was ill. Then she told him of the wounds. A doctor was called, and he ordered her removed to the Balm hospital. She was hurried there in an ambulance. Her name is now on the dangerous list. The wound in the abdomen is very serious.

Sullivan was booked at the police station on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. He told the police that he kept company with the girl for many months and that she had informed him yesterday that she was not going to see him again. He became very angry, he said, and drew his knife. He said he was a millhand.

SEEN AND HEARD

Only six more shopping months until Christmas.

Dutch girls dress like their mothers; but it is just the other way around in America.

We burn 3,000,000 more gallons of gas daily than we did last year. Times are certainly bad.

Mrs. Mary A. Cogswell of Salem has resigned from the teaching force of the public schools after 50 years of service. She was absent only four days in that time because of sickness.

Girls may be married at the age of 12, with their parents' consent, in Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi and Virginia; boys at the age of 14 in Kentucky, Louisiana and New Hampshire.

A Thought

Wisdom is that attribute of a man through which every action of a man reveals its ideal value and import.—Schopenhauer.

Not Father's Fault

"I hardly know your father today," said the welfare worker, pleasantly, to the little girl of the house. "He has out his head again. That's the third time in a year. It ain't father what's done it," explained the child. "Father likes his head on, but you see, mother's stuffing the sofa."

Today's Word

Today's word is atrocious, plural atrocities. It is pronounced a-tro-shi-ee, with the accent on the second syllable. The "a" is as in ask, and the "o" short. It means outrageously cruel or wicked, a deed awfully brutal. It comes from the Latin atroc, atrocis, meaning cruel, fierce. It's used like this: "The atrocious of the recent mine massacre in Illinois was committed by men who probably never would think of committing murder under any circumstances."

A Ideal Artist

It was a soft and balmy spring night. The moon was at its zenith, casting a mellow radiance upon the greenery of the garden. A young man, dressed in a suit of vibrant adoration, "I will lay my fortune beside your feet!" "O, but your fortune is not a very large one!" cried the young lady. "No," he replied, "but I will lay my fortune beside your feet!" "But he hasn't caught me yet!"

One of the Walter

"Talking about dinners," said the traveling salesman slowly, "I remember one I had when I was on the road. I went into a swank restaurant in town with some fellow travelers. We ordered the finest thing in the menu I have ever eaten. Then the bill came around, and we couldn't decide who was to pay. Everybody offered, and so did I. 'Yes,' continued the salesman, 'and we couldn't settle the matter. I proposed we should divide it up. Each of us should contribute just what we could. 'Good idea,' said another listener. 'What did he catch?' 'I don't know,' replied the commercial traveler briefly. 'But he hasn't caught me yet!'"

Senators and Shakespeare

Some senators are intelligent and others are just censors. If Shakespeare were writing today the latter group would censor his plays somewhat as follows: "Hamlet." Out out the soliloquy. It speaks of committing suicide. Cut out the murder of Polonius and all the other murders, and cut out the scene showing Ophelia's suicide. Change the wording, "Something is rotten in the State of Denmark." This would offend the Danes. "The Merchant of Venice"—Change title to "Merchant of Milwaukee." Where is Venice, anyway? Make Shylock a Scotsman. Change the scene to a party trial. Cut out the scene showing Portia's disguised as a man. This is against the law. "Julius Caesar"—Cut scene showing assassination of Caesar. This breathes disrespect for the laws and contempt for the police.

Your Day

You get up in the morning, and you feel quite brisk and gay. You say: "It's a fine day, I think, and so a lot today." You dress and cut your breakfast, and then with a great burst of enterprise you ask yourself: "Now what shall I do first?" But just as you are starting a neighbor comes to call. He knows a lot of gossip and he stays to tell it all. And when he has departed you see a lovely book. And you yield to the temptation to take just a little look. And then before you know it, it's nearly half-past one. And of all the things you've thought of not a single one is done! After lunch you hear your nephew looking for you at the door. And when he's brought you home again it's almost half-past four. Then you go into the garden, and you don't choose the spot. To do some work, but you decide that it is still too hot. Then another neighbor calls, to give the views on politics. And when you see him going you find it's half past six. So you eat your dinner sadly. Then, as your pipe you fill. You say to yourself: "Well, there's the evening still!" But O, it is so easy to dream the time away! And you shake the bed-time, thinking: "Well, I've had some fun today!"

AIRSHIP AND CREW OF 20 PLUNGED INTO SEA

LONDON, July 3.—A dispatch to the Central News from Rome says Admiral Salazar and a crew of 20 men had a miraculous escape from death yesterday when a large airship in which they were proceeding to Taranto plunged headlong into the sea. Boats put out from shore immediately and rescued the airship and the ship's personnel, all of whom were injured. Admiral Salazar was seriously hurt.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The order of the board of health forbidding bathing in the Merrimack river between the Alton and Moody street bridges did not meet with the approval of the younger element of that district, for the board is depriving them of their chief place of pleasure. But of course safety first is the rule. The board finds that the water in that part of the river is a menace to health because of its polluted condition, and that is sufficient argument for "closing" the stream to swimmers. It is remembered years ago when there was a bath house on the shore of the Merrimack near the Alton street playground, and that has boys and girls who in those days enjoyed themselves to their heart's content. The bath house was not considered a very safe place, and the new maintained of the Pawtucket boulevard, for bathing took place within the walls of the house, which was a very safe place. The board of health, some for boys and others for girls, in the center of the river, and the board of health, the depth of which varied from two to six feet, there was an attendant on duty, and the board of health, an accident having occurred there.

The Pawtucket boulevard bathhouse is quite an improvement over bathing in the canal, but it is so far away. The bath house is a very safe place, and it seems to me that another bathhouse could be erected in the vicinity of the Alton street playground. It might be a little expensive to the city, but the pleasure derived from it by the children of the district would more than make up for it. It is estimated that there are more children in the Little Canada and West Merrimack districts than in any other part of the city. If the board of health will not allow them to bathe as far as the Pawtucket boulevard, the children of the district will be deprived of the pleasure of bathing in the river, for good reasons, of course, something should be done to provide a bathing place within a reasonable distance.

While standing at Merrimack square Saturday morning, I was approached by a well-dressed woman. She wanted to know where Merrimack square was. Being I was dealing with a stranger, I pointed out the square. She then informed me that she came from the Merrimack square and she wanted to know where the square was. She then informed me that she came from the Merrimack square and she wanted to know where the square was. She then informed me that she came from the Merrimack square and she wanted to know where the square was.

Despite the fact that they have been out on strike for nearly 20 weeks, the men of the Boston and Maine railroad are still as jovial and their afternoons' gatherings at headquarters in Centralville are as enjoyable as ever. Last Thursday they raffled off a live rooster and next Thursday three live ducks will be drawn and given to the lucky winners. Tickets for the drawing are being sold at 10 cents each to the strikers only and the holder of each ticket has a chance on winning one of the three ducks or one hundred dollars. The ducks will be taken to the hall and the winners will have to take them away and that is where the fun will come in.

WORLD CO-OPERATION

School of Citizenship League to Promote International Understanding

BOSTON, July 3.—To co-operate in promoting international understanding was set forth as one of the objects of the American School of Citizenship League in an address by Mrs. Fannie Fern Andrews of Boston at the annual meeting of that body held here today in connection with the convention of the National Education association. Through a world essay contest, and through other channels of communication with educational leaders and movements in different countries, the basis of mutual understanding is laid through which the spirit of good will may be disseminated through the world and the old order of selfishness gradually abolished. Mrs. Andrews said: "The foundation for all of this must be laid in the schools. We must begin with the children whose minds are free from the heritage of the past, who are receptive to the new ideas of world cooperation. The schools of all countries should mould the thought of the children to the new light. Education, as the agency to promote the complete development of the ideal of cooperation and of law, must become more fully recognized."

Four high school pupils selected in a state-wide contest conducted by the league delivered orations on "The duty and opportunity of the United States to promote international friendship." They were Harris J. Davies, Lawrence; Theodore J. Cutting, Melrose; Robert W. Lashman, Lynn; and Harry C. Page, Swampscott.

EVENING PLAYGROUND IN CENTRALVILLE

The chamber of commerce is again taking the lead in conducting evening street playgrounds in Lowell. The idea, which has met with great success in the past, is being revived. The playgrounds are being held in the Centralville section. A vacant plot off Lawrence avenue is being favorably considered.

GIRMAN MARK AGAIN DROPS NEW YORK, July 3.—The German mark fell to yet another low level today, being quoted before the opening of business at 0.22 1/2, the equivalent of 100 for 22 cents. Before the war the current quotation for the mark in this country was 28 1/2-10.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem INVITATION

I know a little lake where the wavelets seem to make
A rippling, sort of tune, soft and low;
A lake of purest blue which the sunshine flickers through,
As you paddle your canoe to and fro.
There's a shack upon the shore—just a shack and nothing more,
But you'll always find the door open wide,
It's sort of haven where there is neither fret nor care;
Come along with me up there and abide!

There's a fresh and piney breeze that comes rustling through the trees,
There is rest and calm and ease, night and day;
You can swim in sheer delight through the waters clear and bright,
And you'll gain some appetite from your play.
Or in some cool forest nook you can sit with pipe and book,
Or with pole and line and hook, tempt the trout.
There is neither strain nor stress, but a peace you can't express,
With Dame Nature's loveliness all about.

And at nighttime we can sit by the fire, where shadows fit,
And the owls proclaim "To-whit" and "To-who!"
And we smoke and murmur of work and sorrow, laughter, love,
While the stars shine from above, clear and true.
Then—a long and dreamless sleep till the light begins to creep
Up the sky, and song birds cheep at the dawn!
Come, regain your boyhood glee, drip your business cares and flee
To that little lake with me. Aw, come on!

BIG HOLIDAY TRAFFIC ON BOSTON AND MAINE

Traffic to Maine and the White Mountains has been very heavy over the Boston & Maine during the past few days. The strike of the repair men as yet has had no effect on the running time of the trains, and Agnes Brown says that it will not affect it in the future.

Saturday and Sunday double sections were used on all the trains going north and all sections were crowded. Now that the summer season is on, the officials say it will be necessary to run double sections practically all the time. As many business concerns are closed till Wednesday morning, many Lowell people have taken the opportunity to spend the holiday at some resort.

The railroad is advertising for repair men to take the place of those who went on strike in opposition to the cut in pay given by the railroad. Short talks on current topics were given by Chief Organizer Hendley, Chief Ranger Cromey, Patrick Lihonan, Thomas Norvin and Michael Mitchell.

I. N. FORESTERS HOLD MONTHLY MEETING

The local branch of the Irish National Foresters held its monthly meeting Sunday afternoon with Chief Ranger E. J. Cromey in the chair. Six new members were initiated and five applications for membership passed upon.

The treasurer's report was read by Michael Mitchell and the branch was shown to be in good financial standing. During the business meeting delegates were chosen to the national convention of Foresters to be held in Boston the week of September 11. E. J. Cromey and M. M. Mitchell were elected delegates and P. W. Norvin and C. A. Stanley alternates. Short talks on current topics were given by Chief Organizer Hendley, Chief Ranger Cromey, Patrick Lihonan, Thomas Norvin and Michael Mitchell.

CITY GETS MONEY FROM
DISTRICT COURT

The city of Lowell received from the district court nearly $3000 more in fines, most of them for liquor violations, for the last quarter which spans the month of April to July, than it did for the first quarter, according to the report of the district clerk of court's office tabulated today by Mrs.
Brown. For the first quarter of the year $5907.85 was collected, while from the quarter ending yesterday $8833.33 will be turned over to the city treasurer. The last mentioned sum does not include the total amount collected as $263.12 was paid in, but out of this sum was paid $399.79 for transportation.

The report is made to the treasurer of the commonwealth, the treasurer of Middlesex county and the treasurers of the several townships included in this district. Checks are being mailed today to all responsible parties.

For the month of June the treasurer of the commonwealth will receive five checks, one for $30, the result of fines for motor vehicle laws, and the other of $20 for the violation of the fish and game laws. During the quarter ended, $665 is due the treasurer. Of this
$845 is for infractions of the auto laws.

The township of Chelmsford was responsible for taking in $100, the fine assessed in one liquor case. It paid out nothing for expenses and is therefore entitled the full $100.

Dracut took in $505. Of this $100 was assessed for carrying a pistol, while the remainder is for the violation of liquor laws. Deducting $12.55 for expenses, the town is entitled to a check of $492.45.

Two Tewksbury violators of the milk laws paid in $100 which goes to the credit of that place. From this $0.52 has been deducted for expenses leaving an amount of $99.48 for Tewksbury to spend.

Tyngsboro netted $33.18 as the result of one drunkenness fine and an assault and battery case. The total fines amounted to $10, but of this $6.82 was claimed as expenses, leaving the above-mentioned residue.

Bitterton collected nothing during the last quarter and is therefore entitled to nothing. During the first quarter $205 was collected by that township.

The amount of money collected by the office for writs, small claims, interest on deposits and other fees was $437.25. The sum of $31.50 was received from defendants to pay witness fees. With a balance of $100.65 brought forward from the first quarter the office had on hand $1002.81. Of this amount the officers' fees came to $325.24. The balance on hand at the present time to start the work of this quarter is $659.23. While a report is made of this fact to the treasurer of the commonwealth, a check is not sent him for the amount, as the money is kept as a working sum and turned in at the end of the year with the annual report.

Does Summer Find You Miserable?

If You Are Tired, Weak, All Worn Out and Have Constant
Backache, It's Time You Gave Yourself Attention

SUMMER! At what other time are conditions so favorable for the thorough enjoyment of good health? Summer days, indeed, should be your best days! 'Tis nature's happy play-time—and you owe yourself a generous share in the pleasures of summer's outdoor exercise and recreation.

But you may be one of countless folks who is missing the joys of health. You get up lame and aching; feel weak, tired and played out. Every sudden move brings sharp, stabbing pains and when evening comes, you feel too nervous and depressed to rest or relax. Are you one of the unfortunates? You owe it to yourself, then, to find out what is wrong and to lose no time beginning proper corrective treatment. Very likely it's your kidneys.

A lame, aching back with sharp, darting pains, soreness and stiffness, are common symptoms of weakening kidneys. You may have headaches and dizziness, too, and perhaps some annoying bladder irregularities.

Fortunately these symptoms are usually easily corrected, if treated promptly. But there is grave danger in neglect. Don't wait for some serious kidney sickness—begin treating your weakened kidneys today with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands.
They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"USE DOAN'S" SAY THESE LOWELL FOLKS:

Peter Sheehan, 11 Lyon St., says:
"I strained my back and suffered from backache. When I stooped, sharp pains caught me across my kidneys and doubled me up. My kidneys acted too often and the secretions were unnatural. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and after using three boxes bought at Bailey & Co's Drug Store, I was cured of the trouble."

Mrs. W. Spauld, 7 Larrance court, says: "I was laid up with kidney trouble caused by a cold. I could hardly straighten when I stooped, due to the terrible lameness in the small of my back. I could hardly get out of bed in the morning. I was so lame and my kidneys acted unnatural. I suffered from terrible pains in the top of my head and it seemed as though the top of my head was coming off. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them and they soon helped me. I continued until Doan's cured me of all symptoms of kidney trouble."

Systematic Picketing by R. R. Shopmen

BOSTON, July 3.—Systematic picketing of enginehouses, shops and terminals in this district was started today by striking railway shopmen. Union leaders predicted that the number of strikers would be materially increased this morning by the addition of men who were off duty when the strike began. Railway executives said the extent of the walkout could not be determined until Wednesday. They expressed the opinion that many of the shopmen took advantage of the four day holiday and would return to work when it was over. Labor leaders, however, said that Wednesday would find every man out. The employment office of the Boston & Maine reported that 800 men had already been hired to take the jobs of those who walked out.

SUNDAY FIRE ALARMS
A false alarm pulled in from box 17 at 2:21 o'clock yesterday morning gave the firemen a needless run to the corner of Gorham and Moore streets. At 5:42 o'clock yesterday morning, an alarm was pulled in from box 15 for a roof fire at 85 Suffolk street. The alarm from box 22 at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon was for a slight blaze in an unoccupied house at the corner of Broadway and Suffolk street.

FIRECRACKER CAUSES $75,000 FIRE

ATTLEBORO, July 3.—Fire, thought to have started from a firecracker, destroyed the lumber mill and tennis racket factory of N. J. Magnus & Co. on Franklin avenue early yesterday, causing a loss estimated at $75,000 and throwing 100 persons out of employment.

Firemen Joseph Evans and Charles Batchelder were slightly burned on the head and body.

The portable sawmill owned by Hugh A. Smith on South Main street and located on the George St. John Sheffield estate on North Main street, on the edge of Wingham swamp, was found safe by William Thurston, a passing autoist. It had burned to the ground with a loss of $5000. Spontaneous combustion is ascribed as the cause of this blaze.

At 2:20 o'clock three alarms were sounded for the Magnus fire from box 23 after the fire had been discovered by Harry Litchfield and Joseph McKeon. All the fire apparatus in Attleboro and Milville was called, but the fire had gained such headway it was impossible for the firemen to prevent the destruction of the plant, a three-story frame building.

Jobs of houses on Smith street, a half-mile away, were burned, catching fire from flying embers. The damage was slight to the buildings.

No one was in the Magnus plant when the fire started. Boys admitted exploding a large firecracker on the spot where the fire started on the first floor.

Concern was felt for the safety of the night watchman, Ernest Reynolds, and firemen vainly searched the ruins for him. It was learned later that he was not working.

$25,000 Brandon Fire
BRANDON, Vt., July 3.—A building on Center street containing several stores was burned early yesterday, causing a loss of $25,000. The blaze started in some fireworks in the variety store of E. N. Lewis.

YALE'S HOWLING PROBLEM
NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 3.—Early settlement of the rowing problem at Yale and the selection of a rowing committee for the coming year and the naming of a coach is expected. It is said that the entire situation will be considered this week, instead of being delayed until August, as had been forecast immediately after the Yale-Harvard regatta.

THIRD MAN DEAD IN STILL EXPLOSION

BOSTON, July 3.—Kadish Kopelman of 150 Orange street, Chelsea, last of the three alleged moonshiners who were burned when a still exploded at Bent street, Cambridge, June 23, died yesterday at the Cambridge City hospital.

The other two men, Alexander Rutstein of 19 Nottingham street, Dorchester, and his brother Samuel of 23 Waukegan street, Roxbury, died during the past week. Besides the three deaths which resulted from the explosion, six buildings were burned with a loss of $50,000, and scores of families were driven from their homes.

Police say that Alexander Rutstein made a confession just before he died, in which he admitted that he, his brothers of the still, and had been making moonshine.

The still was located in the cooperative plant of Gilmore Brothers. When it exploded, the three men ran to the street in flames.

POPULATION OF P. E. ISLAND SHRINKS

OTTAWA, Ont., July 3.—Prince Edward Island and the Yukon territory have suffered losses in population in the last 10 years, according to revised figures of the Canadian decennial census, just made public here. All other provinces show gains. The Dominion total of 7,785,483 being an increase of 1,581,840 since 1911.

New Scotia with 523,837 has the largest population of the Maritime group, having gained 31,419, or 6.40 per cent since 1911. New Brunswick with a population of 237,876 shows a gain of 30,957, or 10.25 per cent, since 1911. Prince Edward Island's population is 53,615, a decrease of 5113, or 9.54 per cent.

Due to a falling off in placer mining activity, Yukon territory declined in population from 3512 in 1911 to 3157 in 1921, a decrease of 615 per cent.

The census report places the strength of the Royal Canadian navy at 455.

GIRLS LEAP FROM AUTO

Two Sisters in Serious Condition in Cambridge Hospital

CAMBRIDGE, July 3.—Mary Kane, 19 years old today was in a critical condition at the Cambridge City hospital and her sister, Lilian, 25, was suffering from serious injuries, the result of a leap from an automobile in which the girls had accepted a ride early Sunday morning.

The sisters, with a friend, Miss Mary Lynch, were waiting at a car stop when two men drove up and offered to drive them home. They accepted and Miss Kane was left at her residence. When the Kane home in North Brighton was reached, however, the driver refused to stop the machine. The girls jumped and the car continued on its way.

Two men have been arrested in connection with the case.

WOMAN SPURNS EXTRA PARLIAMENT PAY

OTTAWA, Ont., July 3.—Miss Agnes MacPhail, only woman member of the Canadian parliament, has returned to Minister of Finance Fielding $1500 of the $4000 paid her as "seasonal indemnity," or salary as parliamentarian.

"I can use the money," Miss MacPhail explained in a letter to the minister. "Anybody can use $4000. But I object to the increase of the indemnity from $2500 to $4000 at a time when our men were overseas and the cry was economy. There is no use preaching economy unless we give the people a lead in economy."

WILL INCREASE SEATING CAPACITY

The seating capacity of the new St. Jeanne d'Arc church in Pawtucketville will be increased by about 250, and work on the improvements in the building were started this morning.

Because of the work going on in the interior of the building there will be no services this week in the chapel.

The seating capacity of the church is about 600 and although several masses are being celebrated there on Sundays, it has been found inadequate to provide for the many parishioners of the district. The partitions separating the two classrooms on the main floor of the building with the church proper, will be removed and new pews will be installed. It is expected that the job will be finished within a couple of weeks.

In order to accommodate the children who attend school in the two classrooms in the church building, the New Moody street school, which was purchased several months ago by St. Joseph's parish from the city, will be thrown open in September and as soon as this is done, all the Pawtucketville pupils who are attending St. Joseph's college and convent will be transferred to their own district. The opening of the new school will prove of great benefit for the boys and girls of the district.

FROM INFANCY TO LIFE'S SUNSET TANLAC BRINGS HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

Nature's Blessings Are Open to All, and It Seems Inexcusable for Anyone to Remain a Miserable Weakling When This Great Medicine Is Restoring Vim, Vigor and Abundant Vital Energy to Hundreds All Around Them Every Day.

The foundation of health is laid during the early years of life.

From the tiny toddler with foot hesitantly placed upon the bottom-most step, to the venerable grandfather at the top of Life's stairway, Tanlac is praised by all for the vim, vigor and abundant vital energy with which it blesses each step.

The earlier in life that one begins the use of Tanlac, the better equipped will that person be to cope with the vicissitudes of this existence. By preparing the digestive system of the youngster Tanlac smooths the path and insures health and strength through all the years ahead. We cannot forget that the foundation for good health in our advanced years is laid during the early years of life.

How can it be to see men and women by the thousands going through life with less than half of the vigorous health, strength and capacity for the enjoyment that is their birthright. And how much sadder it is to know that all their sufferings and lack of happiness are due to their own failure to take advantage of the blessing that Nature offers to all. When one looks upon a weak, worn out, faded, dejected man or woman and reflects that all this may be readily and satisfactorily changed merely by the use of Tanlac, if only that poor mortal knew it, one feels like spreading the message of hope and joy that Tanlac brings in the shortest and clearest handwriting that none may overlook!

Are YOU as strong and healthy as you should be? Have you that abundant vital energy that enables you to laugh at disease and to overcome the ever-present obstacles in the path of your happiness? Does your food give up to you its rich stores of vitality, or does it pass through your digestive system without supplying you with much beyond the poisons formed through its decomposition?

Take this under your serious consideration, and answer these questions for yourself. Then, if the answers are unsatisfactory, go to any druggist and purchase a bottle of Tanlac, and you, too, may become strong and healthy with the energy and vitality to accomplish your desires, just as so many thousands of others have publicly testified were the results obtained from taking Tanlac.

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adm.

A SWEET LITTLE BABY BOY

Makes a Bright Spot in Every Home. A Comfort in Years to Come

Park Rapids, Minnesota.—"I have taken your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—when I was a girl for pains and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy and will send you his picture if you wish to publish it. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born."

Mrs. WM. JOHNSON, Box 155, Park Rapids, Minn.

To marry and arrive at middle age without children is a great disappointment to many women. Think of the joy and comfort other women have in their children as they grow older.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to bring great happiness to many families by restoring women to health. Often the childlessness is due to a run down condition of the wife, which may be helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It brought health and happiness into the home of Mrs. Johnson. Why not to yours?

LABOR BOARD BARS STRIKERS

Six R. R. Shop Crafts Union Which Quit Work on Saturday Outlawed

Formal Resolution Says Unions Forfeited All Rights Before Board

Canvass at Detroit of Strike Vote of Maintenance of Way Employees

Several Contingents of Pickets on Duty in Boston and New York Districts

CHICAGO, July 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—With the striking railway shopmen formally outlawed by the United States railroad labor board both the strikers and the roads were standing pat all over the country in yielding position today. Headquarters of the shopmen here reported a complete walkout so far as their reports were concerned. Most of the roads in the absence of details on the situation declined to make any statement. Interest in the strike situation centered mainly in Detroit, where the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop laborers were to decide today whether they would cast their lot with the six striking shop unions. E. F. Grable, president of the brotherhood, said if the vote was in such proportions as to call for a strike, it would be his duty to call one.

Slight Disturbances
Meanwhile, slight disturbances cropped out at Perry, Pa., near the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul roundhouse, and at the Baltimore and Ohio shops in Chicago. Some stone throwing resulted in a few broken windows, but no serious injuries.

Strikers Outlawed
CHICAGO, July 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The six railway shop crafts unions which went on strike Saturday were outlawed by the United States Railroad Labor board today. In a formal resolution the board declared that the unions by their action forfeited all rights before the board as railway employees and that new organizations of shopmen taking the striking men's jobs should be formed to represent the shop employees in disputes before the board.

The board requested employees remaining in the service and the carriers to take steps immediately to form new organizations for the purpose of representing the shopmen before the board.

CITY PLANS ELABORATE WELCOME FOR THE GLORIOUS "FOURTH"

Local Observance of Independence Day Will Include Salutes by Bombs and Battery, Bell Ringing, Band Concerts, South Common Midway and Two Brilliant Displays of Fireworks --- Midway to Open at 6 O'Clock Tonight

Lowell, tomorrow will celebrate the 142nd anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, with salutes, bell ringing, band concerts, the time-honored midway on the South common and fireworks displays in the evening that bid fair to eclipse all other pyrotechnic exhibitions ever arranged as a part of the celebrations of other years.

It may be fairly said that the fireworks being supplied by the city this Fourth come with superlative recommendations and the contracting company has promised one of the most gorgeous and thrilling displays ever given in this part of the country.

The displays are being arranged by the Antonelli Fireworks Co. of Rochester, N. Y., at a cost of $1200, with a clause in the contract that the city will be under no obligation if not satisfactory in every respect. The company, also, will supply bombs for the salutes to be fired from the summit of Fort Hill at sunrise, noon and sunset.

According to present plans, the presidential salute of 21 reports will be fired morning and night, with the national anthem.

Large Crowd Watches Fight Despite danger From Stray Bullets

Devastating Fire Against Hotel Where de Valera Is Holding out

DUBLIN, July 3 (by the Associated Press).—The final assault on the positions held by the republicans in Sackville street was begun at 9 o'clock this morning and was still continuing nearly an hour later, when this dispatch was filed.

The other areas held by the insurgents in various parts of this city were occupied by the Free State during the night.

Heavy fighting is going on in Sackville street, which is swept by machine gun fire. The national army forces are operating from O'Connell bridge to the Parnell monument. The return fire of the insurgents is feeble.

The machine gunners are maintaining a devastating fire against the hotel where de Valera is holding out.

THOS. F. MAGUIRE DEAD
Old Member of Sun Staff Died Suddenly After Period of Failing Health

It is with the most sincere sorrow that The Sun is called upon to record the death of an old member of its staff, in the passing of Thomas F. Maguire, for over thirty years advertising solicitor for this paper.

Mr. Maguire was born in London in 1853, and was brought to this city by his parents when six months old. He was educated in the public schools, and on leaving school, he was apprenticed to learn the confectionery business. After serving three years, he entered the service of Nichols & Hutchins, then a prominent confectionery firm on Central street, eventually becoming foreman, in which capacity he served about seven years. Still later he started in the candy business on his own account, but eventually sold out and entered the employ of the Morning Times as advertising solicitor. In 1889 he joined The Sun staff, and remained continuously in this position until his death. Before his illness he was one of the most cheerful of men, always genial, jovial and optimistic. But from the death of his wife, he was a changed man, and broken in spirit under the weight of sorrow, his health rapidly failed. He leaves one son, Thos. M.; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Burns, and several nephews and nieces. He was a member of Court Merrimack, F. of A., and the Lowell "Ad" club. The funeral will take place from his late home on Fletcher street, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, with a solemn high mass at St. Patrick's church at 10 o'clock.

Using solicitor for this paper. He died suddenly Sunday night as the result of a shock, at the home of Mr. John J. Corcoran, 435 Fletcher street, where he resided. He had been in failing health since the death of his wife about two years ago, but was able to attend in part to his duties at The Sun office up to and including last Saturday.

MANY LIQUOR CASES IN COURT

Over $800 Collected in Liquor Fines in the District Court Today

Liquor Squad Active Over Week-End—Big Raid in Dracut

The gun of $972 was assessed in district court this morning by Associate Justice John J. Pickman, who occupied the bench in the absence of Judge Thomas J. Enright. Of this amount all but $42 resulted from infractions of the liquor laws. Eight persons were fined for illegal keeping, the sum amounting to $855, while seven men paid a total of $25 for drunkenness. Violations of the auto laws and a statutory offense were responsible for the remainder of the money. With the exception of $269, all the money was handed to the clerk. The large number of persons to face the bar for illegal keeping was due to the concentrated activity of the liquor squad.

STRIKE IS EXPECTED AT MERRIMACK MILLS
That there will be a strike at the Merrimack Mfg. Co. next Monday is evident by the activity that is being shown by the unorganized employees of the mill, who are dissatisfied with the announcement of a reduction in wages made last week by agent Wadleigh, and which is scheduled to go into effect Monday, July 10. As far as the organized employees of the mill are concerned, the mandate issued last February by the international body of the United Textile Workers of America, practically compels them to refuse the proposed reduction.

During the past few days several delegations of the unorganized employees of the mill have conferred with the officials of the local strike committee and Lowell Textile council for the purpose of discussing the situation as it exists, irrespective of what the reduction will be, and at the request of these delegations it was announced today that a mass meeting of the unorganized employees

ROUNDHOUSE MEN PAID

Places of 25 Who Joined Railroad Strikers Have Been Filled

Although 25 or more men at the local roundhouse of the Boston & Maine railroad walked out Saturday, H. O. Lewis, foreman, said this afternoon that enough help has been taken on in the strikers' places to keep things moving. From another source came the information that the roundhouse had been entirely filled. The action was taken in view of the fact that no hope was felt of the strikers returning to work.

MAN WHO SERVED WITH NAPOLEON FOUND

PARIS, July 3.—These who saw Napoleon have long been considered extinct, but L'Intransigent's Warsaw correspondent reports the discovery of one, a Meclislas Krasinski, a land owner of Volhynia, who was born in 1700.

Papers, if genuine, show that he served in the French army from 1809 to 1813, in the Polish army in 1813, and took part in two revolutions in 1831 and 1863. He underwent 16 years' exile in Siberia, served in the Russian army against China in 1900-01, and in the Manchurian war of 1904-5. The veteran was wounded, but otherwise was never ill. Conference Adjourns

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(By Associated Press)—Deadlocked over a basis of negotiating a settlement of the bituminous coal strike, the conference of operators and United Mine Workers of America representatives today adjourned until next Monday.

When adjournment was taken at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon after two joint sessions and an intermediate separate session of operators and miners, Secretary of Labor Davis, one of the government representatives, said that no agreement had been reached, no committee to continue the discussions in the meantime appointed and no specific program for the future discussed although many different plans had been proposed. Asked as to the indications for the successful outcome of this conference which assembled Saturday at the behest of President Harding, Mr. Davis said with the agreement of Secretary Hoover the other government representative that "as long as we hold them together there is hope."

The government so far as could be learned did not present any proposal as to a basis of ending the strike which has been in progress since April 1, but there was a belief in some quarters that when the conference reassembles Monday, President Harding who then will have returned from his Ohio trip will lay a proposal before the conferees.

$90,000 FIRE LOSS AT OLD ORCHARD

OLD ORCHARD, Me., July 3.—Two large buildings in the heart of the business section here were destroyed by fire yesterday, which at one time threatened to sweep the town. Many cottages caught fire from the sparks and bucket brigades were busy at many points. Help was sent from the fire departments of Portland, Saco and Biddeford. It was nearly three hours before the flames were under control. The loss was estimated at $90,000.

The fire started in a small refreshment stand in the building owned by W. L. White on Old Orchard street, and quickly spread to the rest of the building. Several customers had barely time to escape to the street. The building was occupied by Mr. White's restaurant and cafeteria and the drug store of King E. Sears and George T. Hinchcliffe. The other building destroyed was occupied by Mr. White's bowling alley on the first floor and rooms for his restaurant employees on the second. Mr. White's garage also was damaged.

Arthur Hyde and Parker Tarbox were overcome by the heat and smoke while assisting the fire fighters.

Yeast No "Fad"

Say Scientists

The greatest scientific minds agree that yeast is one of the most important medical discoveries. No method of banishing skin eruptions or building health has yet been found which is equal to it. This is because yeast contains certain vital elements which are lacking in the modern diet. Already millions of people have secured amazing benefits from yeast. Recently, however, a new process has been discovered, called "frazzling," through which people are securing benefits from yeast in just half the usual time. This process, embodied only in Ironized Yeast, helps to immediately convert the vital yeast elements into firm tissue and rich pure blood. If weak, thin or run down—or if troubled with pimples, blackheads or boils, it will pay you to try Ironized Yeast at once. To try Ironized Yeast entirely free simply mail postcard for Famous 3-Day Free Test. Address Ironized Yeast Co., Dept. 57, Atlanta, Ga. Ironized Yeast is recommended and guaranteed by all good druggists.—Adv.

HERE TO LIVE AND DIE

YOUNG HANS

OLD YETTA.

ELLIS ISLAND, July 3.—Hans Quintin, 13, will shoot his first firecracker this Fourth of July. "Then I'll be a real American boy," he told the Ellis Island authorities, his eyes sparkling, "just as I've dreamed of being for a long, long time."

Hans passed the "Island" bound from Bernburg, Germany, for Rome, N. Y., alone.

His mother died when he was a baby. He lived with his father. "One day," he said, "my papa was taken to the war. I never saw him again."

"My grandma took me. She was good, but I hated the country. It took my papa away from me. My aunt asked me to come to America. I was getting ready—when this country went into the war, too. I was so disappointed. But I kept on reading about America. I read about George Washington. I liked him because he was a regular boy, chopping down trees and having fun. Look what he grew up to be! And I read about Huck Finn.

"Now at last, I'm here. I'm so glad. I'll shoot firecrackers. I'll play. I'll go to school. And when I'm a man I'm going to make automobiles and be a regular American."

Hans has been adopted by his aunt, Mrs. Gus Schieve, at Rome, N. Y. Hans Quintin came to America to live. Yetta Kvintitsky came to die in peace.

She is not more than 55, but tragedy has aged her—she is very old.

"I am from Russia," she said. "I had a family there once, but they have been scattered for 25 years. One by one, they had to flee. My youngest son went last—sixty years ago."

"He left his wife and children with me, hoping to send for them when he had made a home in America. But conditions grew worse. We couldn't wait. We risked our lives, stealing across the frontier. Finally we are out of Soviet Russia."

"My son was trying hard. At last he got a newspaper route in Chicago. Then he sent for us."

The wrinkled old woman glanced about her.

"It's so quiet here," she said, "so calm."

"It's hard on a woman as old as I to leave home, but I'm glad to be in America—in this beautiful land."

"Now—I can die in peace."

"Pooh!" said her grandson, aged 9, coming up. "Die! Nothing doing! We're here to live. That's what America's for."

Mrs. Kvintitsky has gone now, with her daughter-in-law and grandchildren, to join her son in the west—for their first American Fourth of July.

JULY FOURTH HOLIDAY OF PATRIOTISM COAKLEY DISBARRED BY U. S. CIRCUIT COURTS

In his sermon at All Souls' church yesterday morning, Rev. Arthur C. McGilfert, Jr., called for the same serious thought of country as worshippers give to religious observance of Sunday. "Patriotism, like religion, needs its holy day," said the pastor, and pointed to the Fourth of July as the holy day of American patriotism.

Patriotism and religion are closely allied, he said, and should be given consideration together.

"Let us give a little thought to this America of ours," he continued, "for Americans, for all their commercial interests and thoughtless follies, are extremely susceptible to idealism."

"What other nation, while rejecting the principle of a state church, maintains through the voluntary gifts of its population vast organizations for worship, as if to testify that it has not only territory to develop and products to sell but a soul to save? What other nation ever receives an indemnity from a foreign government and gave it back? When did another nation win territory and return it to its occupants as in Cuba or hold it in trust as in the Philippines? When did ever another nation at the end of a war like that with Spain transport the defeated army to their homes across the seas or when did another nation having taken possession of a strip of land and at an enormous expense build a canal, satisfy its conscience by a voluntary payment to the former owners, or to open the canal on equal terms to the fleets of the world? Idealism runs deep in the veins of America."

"Only within a month the deep sea waters have swept their ideas across the scuttled hulls of proud and powerful battleships—triangle results of the conference called by this country to consider the limitation of armaments. Scoffers may say that idealism but plain commercial motive prompted that course. It seemed good business. But let us not forget that good brotherly morals and good business are never really opposed. To believe in God is to be convinced that goodness is profitable. The Godlike, and that for us means the Christlike, course always pays in the long run, and no other course can pay permanently in a world framed and controlled by a Christlike God."

BOSTON, July 3.—Daniel H. Coakley was today ordered disbarred from the practice of law in the United States circuit courts of appeals by a decision of the court. United States Dist. Atty. Harris filed the disbarment petition which was based on the decision of the Massachusetts supreme court in ordering Coakley disbarred from state court practice.

Coakley's name figured prominently in the recent removal proceedings brought successfully against Joseph C. Pelletier, former district attorney of Suffolk county.

Fourth of July in Lowell

Continued

A national salute of 42 reports being shot off at noon.

Battery B will assist in the salutes, if arrangements can be made.

A daylight program of fireworks will be shown on the South common at 8:30 p. m., including many bombs and more than a score of set and display pieces. The big display will begin at 9 o'clock and will continue without interruption for two hours. In this display will be 90 set pieces, many of which are most pretentious. A 20- by 24-foot silk flag will be unfurled from an aerial bomb, to be the property of the person who deflated it just before it flutters to the ground; two battleships will fight in mid-air and as one goes down under the effects of a sweeping barrage, the flag will run up to the masthead of the other as a symbol of victory; Niagara Falls, 300 feet in length, will run in three colors; two carrier pigeons will be sent out from an aerial bomb and entangled from an aerial bomb and sent back to the company's headquarters in Rochester, N. Y.; St. Anne's church, Ladd and Whitney monument and a facsimile of Mayor George H. Brown will be portrayed in spitting flames and bursting bombs and the air will be rent and torn by the detonation of more than 1500 aerial bombs, many of which explode scores of times before expiration.

All in all, it is a display of unusual magnitude and should attract thousands of persons to the common.

Band concerts have not been forgotten as a part of the day's celebration. On the South common, the Lowell Military Band will give a program in the afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock, while Allen's band will play from 7 to 9 p. m. The Lowell Cadet band will give a concert on the North common from 5 to 8 p. m. and Allen's band will play at Washington park from 3 to 6 o'clock. Toran's Military band will play for the dedication of the three squares in the forenoon.

With two complete carnivals and more than 100 concessions, the big midway will open on the South common at 6 o'clock this evening. If the weather is fair, it will run for the pleasure of thousands until midnight tomorrow, but should the rains descend tonight sufficiently to seriously curtail the business, another day will be allowed by Supt. John W. Kernan of the park department, who has such authority under the state law, which says that a celebration may be continued on the 5th, if city or town officials so desire. Present plans, however, call for closing at midnight tomorrow, at the expiration of 30 hours.

Denby, secretary of the United States navy, and members of the class of 1881 of the American Naval academy, who accompanied the secretary to Japan, on the naval transport Henderson, today attended the funeral of Prince Yorimoto Higashi-Fushimi.

LICENSES FOR FIREWORKS

BIRTHDAY OF A NATION

BY BURTON BRALEY

FOURTH OF JULY! It's a day inspirational Which we can celebrate loud as we will. Banners and cannon and speeches sensational. Seem to express only part of our thrill! Though we may show a bombastic proclivity. We have a reason, you cannot deny: This is the day of a nation's nativity. Fourth of July!

BOAST? Why, of course, we do! Shout till we're hoarse, we do. Turn out in force, we do. Hearts beating high! Fire-crackers hurled about, Sky-rockets swirled about, We'll tell the world about Fourth of July!

WHAT if we seem to be cheering portentously? This is SOME COUNTRY, we know for a fact! So, on this day, we shall show unreservedly Just how we feel by the way that we act. Proud? Sure we are, and we make it no mystery. Read it, in letters of fire, on the sky: This is the best of the dates in our history. Fourth of July!

COME, be by choice a bit Noisy! Rejoice a bit! Lift up your voice a bit. Do not be shy: SOME COUNTRY! SAY IT IS! Tell 'em the way it is, YOU know what day it is— Fourth of July! (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service)

Tom Sims Says

And now in the course of human events it becomes necessary for enlightened folk to celebrate.

Exactly 146 years ago today Philadelphia was all excited. She hasn't been excited since.

No one knows how she knew it was the Fourth. Perhaps it was because the banks were closed.

On this day John Hancock wished he had a fountain pen to borrow instead of a goose quill.

Then he scratched his "John Hancock" and Great Britain was given her independence.

There were exactly 13 states represented. This number was very unlucky for King George.

We shot at George's soldiers seven years before they all got mad and went home.

And ever since the British have been getting even by sending lecturers over here.

After chasing George's soldiers things seemed so quiet we began shooting firecrackers.

Every Fourth of July we take a day off and some people take a few fingers off.

But after 146 years' practice in celebrating we are gradually learning better ways.

All the city people go to the country and all the country people come to town.

Fourth of July pluckickers always make the country mosquitoes put in their bills for overtime.

Country ants that have never eaten a human find great feasts in store for them.

Birds that have never had a rook thrown at them won't be able to say the same tomorrow.

And the country folk in town are wearing the edges off the buildings looking at them.

Many a pair of shoes were surprised today when they saw their first sidewalk.

And there are patriotic gatherings where folk wish they knew the words to our national anthem.

We favor a safe and sane Fourth of July. There are 365 days in every year. Why not have one of these 365 safe and sane?

LICENSE BOARD GRANTS PERMITS

The license commission met this afternoon and after a short session adjourned to the South common, where permits were issued for the various entertainment stands erected there.

Yesterday afternoon two or three men were detected getting their booths ready. Upon being advised of this condition, Capt. Patrie detailed Sergt. Fraxley to the scene with orders to have the work stopped. When Sergt. Fraxley called the attention of the men to the fact that they were violating a Sunday ordinance, work ceased.

TO ATTEND OUTING AT CARLISLE

A large contingent from Roosevelt Council No. 45 have signified their intention of attending the joint outing of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty to be held tomorrow at Carlisle. Those wishing to make the trip should communicate with Harold Bowler, 52 Jones street, or telephone 1455-34. A truck will leave Friends' bakery at 8:45 and another from Lincoln square at 9. The feature of the day's activities will be a ball game between this council and Cambridge council, while races of all sorts will also be on the program. The return will be made in time to enjoy the fireworks on the common.

READY FOR THE FOURTH
Andover street hill from Fayette to High streets will be opened for traffic tomorrow morning. This stretch recently has been smooth-paved.

SECESSION OF BRITISH COLONIES IN AMERICA

BY WALTER A. DYER.
Author of "Sons of Liberty"

The United States of America has been an independent nation for so long that it is difficult to think of ourselves as once a part, and a loyal part, of the British empire.

It was one hundred and forty-six years ago that the British colonies in America decided that the only thing they could do to protect themselves against unfair government was to secede.

And so the Declaration of Independence was solemnly signed.

This action was not taken because the Englishmen in America hated the

WALTER A. DYER

Englishmen in Great Britain. Many of them had friends and relatives in the mother country, and they had grown up to own allegiance to a king. Nor was it at first, because of any overwhelming desire to set up a separate rule on this continent.

Against the Whigs
The revolt was, in fact, not so much against England as against a political party in England, the Old Whigs, who, under the leadership of Lord North and others, largely controlled the actions of George III, and sought to establish a corrupt government for their own profit.

There were men in England, like William Pitt, who also fought against this tyranny, but they were kept down by military and political power and by the prestige of royalty.

The Englishmen over here had a better chance to rebel because they were far away and so were more difficult to control.

Little by little the American colonists made their protests felt, and the ill-advised king and the party in power undertook to silence these protests by acts of punishment. They deprived American Englishmen of ancient rights and the colonists replied with more vigorous protests and with evasions of unjust laws.

Parting of the Ways
And so, gradually, they came to the parting of the ways.

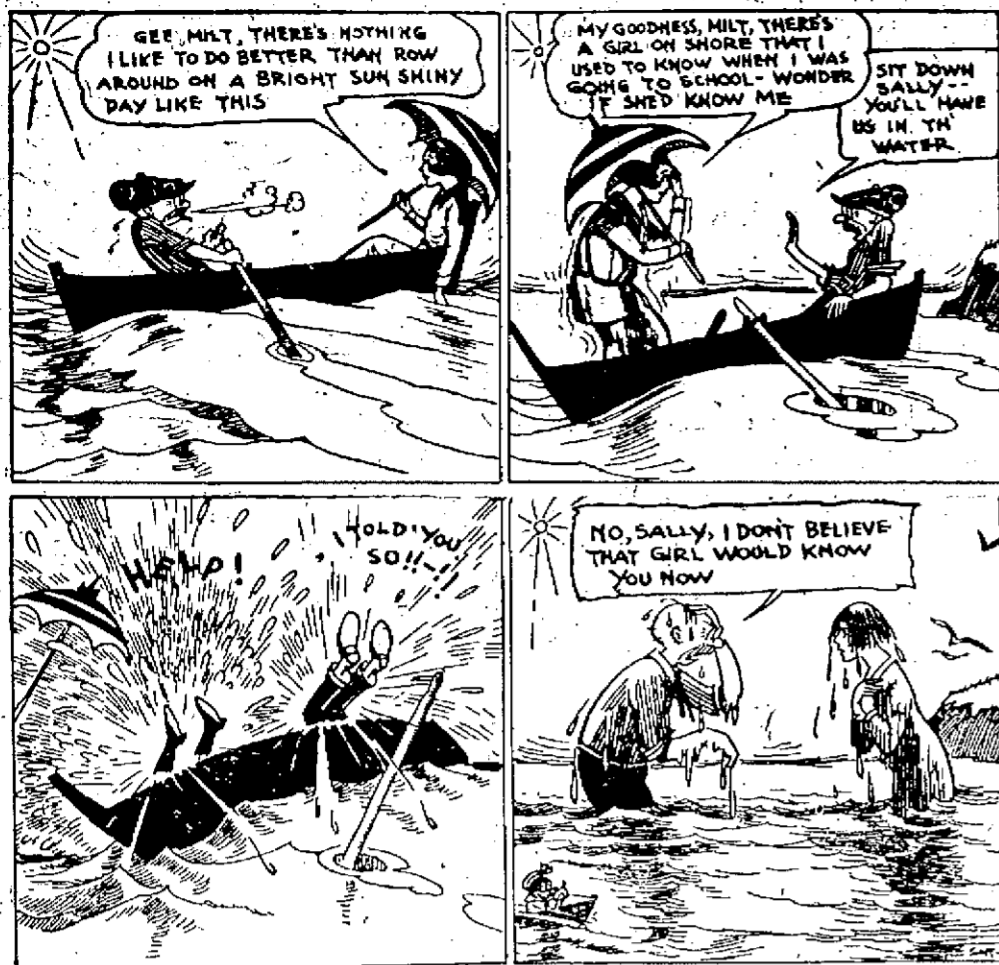

It must be remembered, also, that people in those days, all over the world, took a less liberal view of the position and rights of dependences than they do today.

Colonies were very generally considered as commercial enterprises, and the officers of the central organization felt that, since they had invested their money in the venture, they had a perfect right to dictate how the branch office should be run.

THE BICKER FAMILY

MORE OFFICERS REACH CAMP DEVENS

CAMP DEVENS, July 3.—Forty-seven additional regular army officers arriving at this cantonment to participate in the training of the R.O.T.C. now being held here for young college men who are taking a six week course with a view to receiving commissions in the organized reserve of the United States army.

These additional officers, whose ranks range from that of major to second lieutenant, come under orders from the war department, and when their tour of duty with the R.O.T.C. is completed they will take part in training the 3000 New England boys who are due here Aug. 1 for a month's training as members of the Citizens' military training camp.

The new officers have been undergoing a course of training themselves, some at the infantry school at Benning, Ga., and the others at the Cavalry school at Fort Riley, Kan.

During the past week the young collegians completed their course of firing on the range, and despite the uncertain weather they have spent every day in the pits. Of the entire personnel of the R.O.T.C. 33.3 per cent qualified on the range in both rifle and pistol marksmanship, and only one man qualified as expert marksman in both pistol and rifle. He is Tom Purcell of the University of Vermont football player, who lives at Burlington, Vt.

Nine more men joined the R.O.T.C. camp during the past week. All Massachusetts Agricultural College. They are Howard Bates, John B. Sargent, Norman D. Hilyard, Elyse C. Johnson, Robert F. R. Martin, Wallace E. Padlock, Edward Tanner, Carl Braun and Fred Peay. The last two men named will take cavalry training and all the rest will seek commissions in the infantry.

Cavalry Starts Soon
The cavalry platoon which is receiving instruction from Lieut. Frank P. Tompkins of Norwich university, will begin mounted drill this week, and need to say that the boys are in the basic cavalry squad are looking forward to it with keen anticipation. The rest of the camp during the coming week will receive instruction in field engineering, machine gun work, infantry drill and physical training.

The weather has held up the sporting side of the training to considerable degree, but the boys have managed to get in a surprising amount of practice on the diamond. With the assistance of Norman Hilyard, shortstop of the M.A.C. nine, and Elyse Johnson, one of the Aggies' best pitchers, they hope to do things to the 3d Cavalry team when the game between the two outfits comes.

Among the other college athletes who are taking the course there is Henry Semansky, one of University of Vermont's mainstays on the gridiron.

The R. O. T. C. men were keenly interested in the arrival of the heavy artillery which came into camp during the past week. There were four big 155 mm. guns. These guns will be used by Boston with 114 officers and men to man them. These guns will be used during August when the Citizens' Training camp is here.

On Friday still another detachment of Regular Army men arrived here to participate in the training of the New England youths who attend the C. M. T. C. They came from Camp Vail, N. J., and they will be stationed here for the summer. The detachment consisted of two officers and 24 men.

All Ready for Guardmen.
Everything is in readiness for the Massachusetts National Guardmen, who will begin to arrive here next Saturday. They will function as a brigade during their training this year, and the whole outfit will be under command of Brig. Gen. Quinn Tamm. The Massachusetts outfit which will come here for their two weeks' training includes the 101st and 104th Infantry Regiments, 51st Brigade Headquarters, the 26th Division Signal Company and Trains, the 2d Separate Battalion (colored) and several other auxiliary outfits. The 1st Squadron, Connecticut Cavalry, will also come here for training during the same period.

It was expected that the Maine National Guardmen—the 103d Infantry and the 162d Field Artillery—would arrive at Devens on July 8, for their training. Orders postponing their arrival until July 14 have been issued however.

Capt. Sweeney announced yesterday that while he is not directly interested in the enrolling of New England boys

RUM-RUNNING PLANE SEIZED IN MAINE TOWN

PORTLAND, Me., July 3.—The seaplane which was forced to land at Jonesport, resulting in the arrest of E. K. Jaquith of Atlantic City, its pilot, and W. J. Strout, of this city, who claimed to be only a passenger, was to have delivered its cargo of 200 quarts of whiskey to a motor boat at Half Way Rock, miles east of the entrance to Portland harbor, Sheriff King P. Graham announced today after his deputies had arrested Roy Savage of this city.

With the capture of Savage, who was taken early in the morning near the beach at Underwood Springs, the deputy sheriffs seized an automobile and 140 quarts of whiskey found in it. They chased a companion of Savage across a field, but were unable to catch him.

Sheriff Graham did not reveal the source of his information prior to the arraignment of Savage which was expected to take place during the day, but it was known that his deputies had been keeping a close watch for several nights on the shore at Underwood Springs, at Falmouth, Me., presumably as a result of information received.

Brig. Gen. Maguire Captured
A number of irregulars were surrounded in the streets of Mullingar by national army troops and placed under arrest. One of those captured was Brigadier General Maguire, commanding the First Eastern Division of the Irish republican army insurgents. The prisoners were conveyed to the military barracks.

11 Killed, 18 Wounded
It is generally believed the task of clearing the republicans out of the Sackville street area will prove difficult, and involve heavy property damage, particularly in view of the report that they are commanded by such experienced fighters and "die hards" as Eamon de Valera, Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess), Austin Stack and Oscar Traynor.

Casualties in Sunday's Fighting Here were 11 killed and 18 wounded.

Stephens' Green Club Falls
The Stephens' Green club, which had been held by the irregulars since Friday, was captured by national army forces today. The irregulars had evacuated the position.

Ten irregulars, occupying Cassidy's saloon on Blumar hill at St. Patrick's street, surrendered before noon.

In accordance with orders from the republican leaders, Father Albert and Father Delahunty, who have been with the irregulars in the Gresham hotel, have left the hotel premises.

Glenveagh Castle Fortified
BELFAST, July 3.—Glenveagh castle, in Donegal, has for some time been occupied by the republicans and now is being put in a strongly defensive condition. The windows have been shuttered with steel, land mines have been laid in the approach to the castle, and machine guns put in position.

Many republicans are reported to be concentrating in the castle.

The Lannet bridge spanning the River Fane between Inniskeen and Cavanagh, County Monaghan, on the South Ulster branch of the northern railroad has been blown up. The explosion was heard 13 miles away, in Dundalk.

De Valera's Aide in Command
LONDON, July 3.—Brakins Childers, one of Eamon de Valera's chief aides, is declared in a Dublin despatch to the Central News to be commanding a party of irregulars which is entraining in the Dublin mountains from towns and villages outside the city.

Confirm De Valera in Garrison
LONDON, July 3. (By the Associated Press.) According to an Evening Standard despatch from Dublin this afternoon, the priests sent away from the Gresham hotel by the republicans confirmed the report that Eamon de Valera was with the beleaguered garrison.

The message quotes one of the priests as saying, regarding the republican leader: "He is there all right. He almost cried as I shook hands with him."

The message adds that the lord mayor, who with the archbishop of Dublin acted last evening as intermediary between the nationals and the besieged republicans has been made prisoner.

Details of Operations

DUBLIN, July 3.—Details of the operations of the national corps as revealed in the latest official communications are regarded as pointing to impaired morale on the part of the irregulars, and to the rapid crumbling of their defenses when seriously attacked.

The tactics of the provisional government's military leaders in first cleaning out the insurgents' outposts resulted in confining the irregulars to positions in the narrow area consisting of part of Sackville street, part of Parnell square, into which Sackville street runs, and Marlborough street, which parallels Sackville and is overlooked by the hotels and other buildings on the latter thoroughfare in which the main forces of the irregulars are still holding out. The rapidity with which these positions were dislodged the insurgents caused surprise.

Yesterday's operations in most cases were carried out by the use of armored cars and intense machine gun fire. Apparently only in one case was artillery brought into action and that was the attack on Moran's hotel in Talbot street. Wiping out of this hero's nest, heaved considerably the difficulties confronting pedestrians in the centre of the city, and reopened the main approach to the great Northern railway station.

Clearing of the outposts in the neighborhood of Harcourt's street and Stephen's Green, was accompanied by heavy firing. The attack on the stronghold in Harbor Terrace was particularly dashing. The Free Staters drove up suddenly in armored cars and opened a fierce fire on the republicans. The return volley was scattering.

The national troops promptly stormed the place, capturing the 30 defenders. Capture of the Swan hotel in York street, proved more difficult. In this engagement the republicans managed to escape with the exception of three, who were wounded. The attack was made by an armored car and a small force of Free Staters in an undertaker's establishment nearby. The fight lasted several hours.

The republicans, who were strongly entrenched, had hung a horsehoose outside a window. They declared their luck would last as long as the horsehoose remained. Most of the defenders were boys.

400 Rebels Captured
DUBLIN, July 3. (By the Associated Press.)—The national troops were victorious in the battle in Dublin yesterday. Early in the evening they opened with a heavy fire and several rebel strongholds were captured, together with nearly 400 prisoners.

An official bulletin, issued shortly before 9 o'clock last night, said: "Thirty irregulars who occupied Moran's hotel are now in our hands, as is also the section bounded by Talbot, Purdon Amiens and Gardner streets."

Gen. Ennis telephoned at 8.20 that the irregulars have been driven from eight positions they held.

A fresh outbreak of firing occurred in many parts of Dublin and throughout the city, there has been increased activity on the part of the nationals and heavy concentrations at tactical points. Free State troops began demolishing the buildings commanding the field of fire to the principal buildings in possession of the irregulars.

"All quiet" is the significant report from Cork and Limerick.

Dublin yesterday presented an aspect of indescribable dreariness, driving rain left the streets deserted, trams ceased running and the only traffic appeared to be armored cars and dozens of ambulances, rushing from point to point collecting the toll of the snipers' bullets.

WILL HOLD OUTING AT CANOBIE LAKE PARK

The annual outing under the auspices of the Angel Guardian sodality of St. Joseph's parish for all members of the parish will take place at Canobie Lake park Thursday, July 13, and according to arrangements the affair promises to be one of the most elaborate in the history of the organization. The arrangements for the event are in charge of Rev. Aurelien March, O. M.I., spiritual director of the sodality, who is being assisted by the following committee of members: Francis Matte, president; A. Desmarais, vice-president; Arthur Ouellette and Raymond Alexander.

As in previous years the outing will be for the members of the sodality, their parents and friends, and in fact any member of the parish, who wishes to spend a very enjoyable day at the park. The arrangements have been made for five special electric cars to convey the excursionists to the outing grounds and, if necessary, more cars will be chartered. The party will leave the junction of Merrimack and Allen streets at 8.30 o'clock. At the lake a varied program of sporting events, which will include a baseball game between teams of the sodality, as well as numerous races of all descriptions will be carried out and valuable prizes will be awarded the winners. Several clergymen, as well as male members of the parish, will be on hand to look after the welfare of the children and it is expected that a general good time will be enjoyed by all.

In the Sackville street area the rifles of the irregulars were visible from the windows of the big buildings, occupied, while the whole of this area was effectively barricaded. The insurgents showed unrelenting activity in sniping recklessly. It was dangerous to attempt to approach their positions.

Passing cars with national troops were engaged even at considerable range, and yesterday afternoon heavy bursts of machine guns were frequent when the nationals blazed at the windows of the fortified buildings.

The leaders of the irregulars, including Eamon de Valera, Cathal Brugha and Oscar Traynor, who is reported to be at the head of the Dublin irregulars, and Countess Markievicz are all said to be in this area. The republicans "War News" asserts that the rebel forces in Dublin have been reinforced both in men and materiel.

An official bulletin issued at general headquarters at 10.30 o'clock last night describes the evening operations of the national troops. They advanced in three directions, attacking the posts held by the irregulars, driving out the occupants and taking some prisoners. It specifies certain buildings occupied and says that during the operations several mines laid by the irregulars were exploded.

A tunnel, apparently for the purpose of escape, was found parallel to Parnell square. Many of the insurgents escaped in Marlborough street area through breaches in the adjoining houses when their positions were attacked.

It confirms the capture of Moran's, Hughes' and McArthur's hotels with 11 prisoners. The irregulars are still in possession of hotels and other buildings in Sackville street, but are completely invested, and the advance continues.

This bulletin adds that the regulars are receiving the whole-hearted support of the civilian population. One of the most important successes of the regulars was in Moran's hotel. An 18-pounder was turned against it and after the third shot the rebels rushed from the hotel and crossed the street into a hotel opposite. In few minutes, however, they hoisted the white flag and surrendered. Their casualties are not believed to be serious.

Another rebel outpost captured last evening was the Swan hotel in York street opposite Stephens bridge. The attack was made from an armored car with machine guns. The rebels replied vigorously from behind the fortifications, and the engagement continued intermittently for several hours. The walls of the hotel were badly battered and in the evening the rebels retreated, leaving three wounded behind.

Harcourt's terrace also was taken, with about 18 prisoners. Thirty irregulars were captured in Adelaide road by a sudden rush of the nationals.

WILTED MAN STABS GIRL IN SALEM SQUARE

SALEM, July 3.—In the midst of a large crowd of people at Lafayette st. and Loring ave. and within 10 feet of Trading Officer Ayres, it is alleged, Andrew J. Sullivan, 37, of 82 Warrenton street, Boston, yesterday afternoon drew a jackknife and plunged its 5-inch blade into the abdomen of his companion, Miss Margaret Roles, 23, employed as a maid at the home of John F. Ouster, 1 Holly st.

Witnesses say Sullivan was in a rage as he stabbed the girl. She shrieked. Before aid came, Sullivan, it is charged, slashed her uplifted hand and badly gashed it.

Then he turned and fled through back lots. Patrolman Ayres ran him down before he had gone 300 yards. He was arrested with the bloody jackknife in his hand.

In the meantime, the girl, bleeding profusely, had been carried to a drug store. A doctor hastily dressed her wounds. Then, according to the police, he left to assist in an operation, and the girl walked out of the store.

Despite her two serious wounds she boarded a street car and rode a mile and a half to the home of her sister, Mrs. Patrick Kevell, 1 Barton street. There she said nothing about her narrow escape from death or her two wounds.

Mr. Kevell noticed that she was becoming faint. He asked her if she was ill. Then she told him of the wounds. A doctor was called, and he ordered her removed to the Salem hospital. She was hurried there in an ambulance. Her name is now on the dangerous list. The wound in the abdomen is very serious. Sullivan was booked at the police station on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. He told the police that he kept company with the girl for many months and that she had informed him yesterday that she was not going to see him again. He became very angry, he said, and drew his knife. He said he was a millhand.

FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Never perhaps in the history of this country has there been more need for some practical method of dealing with wage and labor problems in order to maintain industrial peace.

At present, while the country is under a general coal strike, nearly half a million railroad employees go out on strike with the possibility of as many more to follow. Should this railroad strike spread, it might paralyze industry and cause suffering to the people throughout the country. This would be particularly regrettable at a time when business had begun to show unmistakable signs of recovery and steady progress upward.

The railroad crafts have refused to accept the scale of wages fixed by the Railroad Labor Board, although that board was provided for the special purpose of averting strikes and walk-outs. It is peculiarly unfortunate that a government body created to prevent strikes is thus blamed for causing the railroad strike. Yet this is not unfrequently the outcome of efforts to secure industrial peace.

The textile industry is also involved in many strikes that are crippling the New England factories and undoubtedly injuring New England business in general. As yet there is no practical method of dealing with these troubles. The present boards of arbitration and conciliation have proved unequal to the task of settling any of these strikes.

It would seem that in labor disputes of quasi-public corporations, there should be compulsory arbitration in order to protect the public against the consequences of a prolonged strike, as for example, between railroad companies and their employees or between mine operators and the miners. Some other method not yet devised must be found to deal with ordinary labor disputes such as those now in progress in various textile cities of New England. We believe that eventually such a method will be found and that it will result in mutual agreements which will render strikes and lockouts unnecessary. It can hardly be said that they are necessary now, although in some cases, they are resorted to as the only means of securing simple justice. In such cases there should be a tribunal with sufficient authority to settle the issues involved and enforce its decisions. Until we have some such bodies we shall never have industrial peace.

ARMENIA STILL PERSECUTED

Armenia, still persecuted and down-trodden Armenia, when will the God of Justice interpose in thy behalf to put a stop to thy suffering, lift thee up from the curse of Turkish oppression and grant thee the cherished blessing of freedom? That day may be soon, for the prayer of every friend of freedom and humanity.

Armenia after having the cup of freedom placed to her lips after the World War, had it rudely torn away because certain of the allied powers wanted to avoid war with the Turks. Armenia, after having been assured that she would be given her freedom under the protection of England, the United States or some other power, has been placed once more under the Musselman yoke, and now when other nations are enjoying their freedom, she is still the helpless victim of Turkish atrocities, still her women and children are subjected to the vilest treatment by the Turks and still her people are persecuted and tortured because of their adherence to the Christian religion.

Yet Armenia has not given up hope of an international arrangement under which she will be at least protected against Turkish cruelty. England and France are responsible for the present condition of Armenia and they are willing to intervene in her behalf for the purpose of putting a stop to Turkish persecution if the United States will only join them. While we have as much as we can handle on our hands at present, it would seem that in this case, the most appealing in all the world, we might assist by our counsel and co-operation to secure justice and a measure of freedom for stricken Armenia.

ALLEN'S CANDIDACY

To add to republican activity and excitement in this state, comes Attorney-General Allen as a candidate for governor with a promise enforced by Lieut. Governor Fuller that should he be elected, his services shall be limited to one term. That shows an alliance with the Fuller forces and a loss of the prestige of personal freedom to serve the people as they may desire rather than as Mr. Fuller desires. The latter believes in the republican policy of succession when its application would lift him to the higher office, which is the goal of his ambition. We regard Allen's trade with Fuller as a handicap which will doubtless be used to the candidate's disadvantage in the campaign.

The entrance of Allen to the contest on the republican side will add to the possibilities of electing a democrat for governor—if a strong candidate be nominated. Governor Cox will now set to work to fortify his position against the coming attack; and his hope of a walkover for the nomination is completely blasted. But he hopes to be able to resist the expected onslaughts of the attorney general, whose success in battle with district attorneys may not be paralleled in his quest of gubernatorial honors at the hands of the people.

THE FOURTH

Tomorrow, Independence day, will be quietly observed in this city, the midway to the Fourth of July being the chief attraction. Formerly it was customary to have a Fourth of July address for the benefit of the children, but this feature was abandoned some years ago. The schools are now left to install into the minds of the young the lessons of liberty and patriotism associated with the natal day of this republic.

The Declaration of Independence is not so popular as it used to be but it remains the great cornerstone of freedom on which has been raised the freest government on earth and the grandest republic beneath the canopy of heaven. Dull times and waves of depression that affect the entire world may cause some people to doubt whether our form of government interests this praise; but if they compare it with that of other lands, they will no longer entertain such doubts.

The Fourth of July, next to Christmas and Easter, is the greatest holiday observed in all Christendom.

BORDER GUIDE POSTS

The Lawrence Planning board has evolved the idea of an ornamental sign post to mark the main entrances of the city and, where practicable, to serve as a traffic post in the center of the roadway. The design of the post as indicated by a picture shows a metal post rising from a little circle of flowers to a height of some twelve or sixteen feet and surmounted by a rectangular sign bearing a suitable inscription. The idea is one that, if carried out, would serve a useful purpose, as a great many people in passing from city to city are at a loss to know when they pass from one municipality to another.

There is here a hint for the local "Ad" club, which is taking up such matters for the benefit of Lowell. We could conveniently use over a dozen such posts on the chief thoroughfares leading into our city. They might also serve as guide posts in our best streets and thus be used for a double purpose. We want every visitor to see our new Memorial Auditorium, our new high school, our city hall and other public buildings located on Merrimack street.

DIAMONDS

Diamonds are being imported at the rate of only $22,000,000 a month. Two years ago, the figure was three times as big.

How many diamonds there are in the world is beyond even a rough guess. South Africa has produced about $500,000,000 worth since the two children of a Dutch farmer, playing in the gravel of a river, found the first Kimberley diamond, in 1867.

Our country has correlated half of the world's diamonds, which reveals something about our national prosperity compared with that of other countries.

MEAT-EATING

Man couldn't get along without domesticated animals. The world now has one sheep and one head of cattle for each five people, and one head of swine for each 12 people.

America, with only a sixteenth of the world's population, has a sixth of the world's cattle, a tenth of the sheep and three-sevenths of the swine. We are the greatest meat-eaters on earth. Yet we are the most peaceful people. Militant Japan's diet is based on rice. It is an uncomfortable contrast for the theorists who preach that meat-eating makes people ferocious or savagely emotional.

OLD AGE

George W. Shorman, 83 years old, puts out for himself the interesting job of walking 614 miles in 81 days, to join his old comrades at the reunion of Confederate veterans in Richmond, Va. Pictures of this white-bearded patriarch look as if, in a pinch, he might cover the distance in two weeks. Do you think you will be able to walk 26 miles a day for 31 successive days, when you are 83? Could you do it now?

Our generation is a lot weaker, physically, than the one before us. The schedule points to a race of weaklings a half century hence, but this tendency may be arrested before it has time to produce the logical effects.

TRUCKS AND TRUCKING

There is talk of using the Packard trucks for the collection of ashes and other waste in the street department, so as to eliminate the horses. Trucks cannot be used for any such business where they would have to stop almost at every house in going from street to street. If such work could be done economically by motor trucks, the Gage Ice company would have dispensed with horses long ago.

GOLD

The flow of gold into our country from abroad, continues to decline. In May, our imports of gold exceeded exports by about $5,568,400 or, roughly, a fifth less than in January.

The United States now has about half of the gold in the world. Its utility, or actual value, is largely imaginary. But for that matter, life is based mostly on imagination.

That movement of the high school alumni to raise a fund as a nucleus for a stadium and athletic field is one that should meet a ready response from all friends of the school. The students of the high school are handicapped by the lack of such a field and it is to meet the urgent necessity that the alumni has taken this action. Push the good work along.

Mayor Oles of Youngstown, O., has resigned because he could not be boss of the city. He should come to Lowell and exchange with Mayor Brown.

A Thought

Wisdom is that attribute of man through which every action of a man receives its ideal value and import.—Schopenhauer

Not Father's Fault

"I hardly know your father today," said the welfare worker, pleasantly, to the little girl of the house; "he has cut his beard again. 'That's the third time I see you. 'It isn't father what's done his beard, the cold. 'Father likes his beard on, but you see, mother's stuffin' the sofa."

Today's Word

Today's word is atrocious, plural atrocities. It is pronounced a-trō-si-ous, with the accent on the second syllable. The "a" is as in ask, and the "o" short. It means—outrageously cruel or wicked, a deed savagely brutal. It comes from the Latin atroc, atrocis, meaning cruel, fierce. It's used like this—"The atrocities of the recent mine massacre in Illinois were committed by men who probably never would think of committing murder while alone."

A Real Artist

It was a soft and balmy spring night. The moon was at its zenith, casting a mellow radiance upon the greenery as the lover, swain passionately declared his adoration. "Darling," he cried in tone of vibrant adoration, "I will lay my fortune beside your feet!" "O, but your fortune is not a very large one!" cooed the damsel. "No," he replied, slipping into a roomy robe, "but I will look large beside your tiny feet!" He won her.

One on the Witter

"Talking about dinners," said the traveling salesman slowly, "I remember one I had when I was on the road. I went into the swiftest restaurant in town with some fellow travelers. We ordered the finest thing in dinner I have ever eaten. Then the bill came round, and we couldn't decide who was to pay. Everybody offered, and so did I. 'Yes,' continued the salesman, 'and we couldn't settle the matter I proposed we should blindfold the waiter, and the one who caught him pay.' 'Good idea,' said another listener. 'Who did he catch?' 'I don't know,' replied the commercial traveler briefly. 'But he hasn't caught me yet!'"

Seniors and Shakespeare

Some seniors are intelligent and others are just seniors. If Shakespeare were writing today the latter group would censor his plays somewhat as follows: "Hamlet"—Cut out the soliloquy. It speaks of committing suicide. Cut out the murder of Polonius and all the other murders, and cut out the scene showing Ophelia's suicide. Change the wording: "Something is rotten in the State of Denmark." This would offend the Danes. "The Merchant of Venice"—Change title to "Merchant of Milwaukee." Where is Venice, anyway? Make Shylock a Scotsman. Change court scene to a jury trial. Cut out the scene showing Portia disguised as a man. This is against the law. "Julius Caesar"—Cut scene showing assassination of Caesar. This breathes disrespect for the laws and contempt for the police.

Your Day

You get up in the morning, and you feel quite brisk and gay. You say: "I'll stay at home, I think, today a hot day." You dress and eat your breakfast, and then with a great burst of enterprise you ask yourself: "Now let me get on my feet. Cut out the neighbor comes to call. He knows a lot of gossip and he stays in to tell it all. And when he has departed you see a lovely book. And you yield to the temptation to take just a little look. And then before you know it, it's nearly half-past one. And of all the things you've thought of, not a single one is done! After lunch you hear your nephew, honking for you at the door. And when he's brought you home again it's almost half-past four. Then you go into the garden, and you even choose the spot. To do some work, but you decide that it is still too hot. Then another neighbor calls, to give his views on politics. And when you see him going you find it's half past six. So you eat your dinner sadly. Then, as your pipe you fill. You say, quite optimistically: 'Well there's the evening still.' But O, it is so easy to dream the time away. And you smoke till bed-time, thinking: 'Well, I've had some fun today!'"

AIRSHIP AND CREW OF 20 PLUNGED INTO SEA

LONDON, July 2.—A dispatch to the Central News from Rome says Admiral Salinari and a crew of 20 men had a miraculous escape from death yesterday when a large airship in which they were proceeding to Taranto plunged headlong into the sea. Boats put out from shore immediately and rescued the admiral and the ship's personnel, all of whom were injured. Admiral Salinari was seriously hurt.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The order of the board of health forbidding bathing in the Merrimack river between the Aiken and Moody bridges did not meet with the approval of the younger element of that district, for the board is depriving them of a source of great pleasure. The board finds that the water in that part of the river is a menace to health because of its polluted condition, and that is sufficient argument for "closing" the stream to swimmers. I remember years ago when there was a bath house on the shores of the Merrimack near the Aiken street playground, and that has been the rendezvous of hundreds of boys and girls who in these days enjoyed themselves to their heart's content. The bath house was not constructed on a solid foundation, and now maintained on the Pawtucket boulevard, for bathing took place within the walls of the house, which was a sort of a room with several rooms for dressing at both ends of the building, some for boys and others for girls and that they were being deprived of the pleasure of bathing in the river, for good reasons, of course, something should be done to prevent a bathing place within a reasonable distance.

The Pawtucket boulevard bathhouse is quite an improvement over bathing in the canal, but it is so far away. It is not so far as it seems, and girl. It seems to me that another bathhouse could be erected in the vicinity of the Aiken street playground, at which city water might be used. It might be a little expensive to the city, but the pleasure derived from it, and the fact that they are being deprived of the pleasure of bathing in the river, for good reasons, of course, something should be done to prevent a bathing place within a reasonable distance.

While standing at Merrimack square Saturday noon I was approached by a well dressed woman, who wanted to know where Merrimack square was. She said she was lost and didn't know where she was. I immediately asked her just whom or what she wanted at Merrimack square and she replied "Polina's store." She said she had lost her way and didn't know where she was. I told her that Merrimack square was at the corner of the city and that this was her first visit to Lowell. She had read Polina's ad in the Lowell Sun, she said, and wanted to get in to the bargain. Then pointing to the multi people, who were on their way home, she said, "Lowell is a bustling city, isn't it?" I replied, "Yes, almost as lively as Boston." She left me, going to Polina's, and it is fair to assume that she went with a good impression of the city and its stores.

Despite the fact that they have been out of the city for nearly 20 weeks, the strikers of the Hamilton mills are still as jovial and their afternoon gatherings are enjoyable as ever. Last Thursday they raffled off a live rooster and next Thursday three live ducks will be drawn and given to the lucky winners. Tickets for the drawing are being sold at 10 cents each to the strikers only and the holder of each ticket has a chance of winning one of the three ducks or a fine hand-made floor mat. The ducks will be taken to the lake and the winners will have to take them away and that is where the fun will come in.

BIGHT GRADES IN YEAR

STONINGTON, Ct., July 2.—The town is the home of Benjamin Fishman, a Russian-Pole, who claims the world's school record. Mr. Fishman landed in America March 1, 1902, being 16 years of age. He started in going to school in grade one, and today is the proud possessor of a certificate to enter the Stonington high school, having completed the entire grammar school requirements of eight grades in one year. Fishman intends to work his way through Yale.

WORLD CO-OPERATION

School of Citizenship League to Promote International Understanding

BOSTON, July 2.—To co-operate in promoting international understanding was set forth as one of the objects of the American School of Citizenship league in an address by Mrs. Fannie Fern Andrews of Boston at the annual meeting of that body held here today in connection with the convention of the National Education Association.

Through a world essay contest, and through other channels of communication with educational leaders and movements in different countries, the basis of mutual understanding is laid through which the spirit of good will may be disseminated through the world and the old order of selfishness gradually abolished," Mrs. Andrews said.

The foundation for all of this must be laid in the schools. We must begin with the children whose minds are free from the heritage of the past, who are receptive to the new ideas of world cooperation. The schools of all countries should mould the thought of the children to the new light. Education, as the agency to promote the complete development of the ideal of cooperation and of law, must become more fully recognized.

Four high school pupils selected in a state-wide contest conducted by the league delivered orations on "The duty and opportunity of the United States to promote international friendship." They were Harris J. Booras, Lawrence; Theodore J. Cutting, Melrose; Robert W. Lishman, Lynn, and Harry C. Page, Swampscott.

EVENING PLAYGROUND IN CENTRALVILLE

The chamber of commerce is again taking the lead in conducting evening street playgrounds in Lowell. The idea, which met with great success last year, is in charge of Clarence M. Wood, chairman of the park commission.

Mr. Wood and Mr. C. B. Garmon of the Centralville improvement association have been working upon a location for an evening playground in the Centralville section, a vacant plot of Lakeview avenue is being favorably considered.

GERMAN MARK AGAIN DROPS
NEW YORK, July 2.—The German mark fell to yet another new low level today, being quoted at 12.25 for the opening of business at 10.23, or the equivalent of 100 for 22 cents. Before the war the current quotation for the mark in this country was $3.10.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem INVITATION

I know a little lake where the wavelets seem to make
A rippling sort of tune, soft and low;
A lake of purest blue which the sunshine flickers through,
As you paddle your canoe to and fro.
There's a shack upon the shore—just a shack and nothing more,
But you'll always find the door open wide,
It's sort of haven where there is neither fret nor care,
Come along with me up there and abide!

There's a fresh and piney breeze that comes rustling through the trees,
There is rest and calm and ease, night and day;
You can swim in sheer delight through the waters clear and bright,
And you'll gain some appetite from your play.
Or in some cool forest nook you can sit with pipe and book,
Or with pole and line and hook, tempt the trout.
There is neither strain nor stress, but a peace you can't express,
With Dame Nature's loveliness all about.

And at nighttime we can sit by the fire, where shadows flit,
And the owls proclaim "To-whit!" and "To-who!"
And we smoke and murmur of work and sorrow, laughter, love,
While the stars shine from above, clear and true.
Then—a long and dreamlike sleep till the light begins to creep.
Up the sky, and song birds cheep at the dawn!
Come, regain your boyhood glee, drip your business cares and flee
To that little lake with me. Aw, come on!

BIG HOLIDAY TRAFFIC ON BOSTON AND MAINE

Traffic to Maine and the White Mountains has been very heavy over the Boston & Maine during the past few days. The strike of the repair men as yet has had no effect on the running time of the trains, and Agent Brown says that it will not affect it in the future.

Saturday and Sunday double sections were used on all the trains going north and all sections were crowded. Now that the summer season is on the officials say it will be necessary to run double sections practically all the time. As many business concerns are closed till Wednesday morning, many Lowell people have taken the opportunity to spend the holiday at some resort.

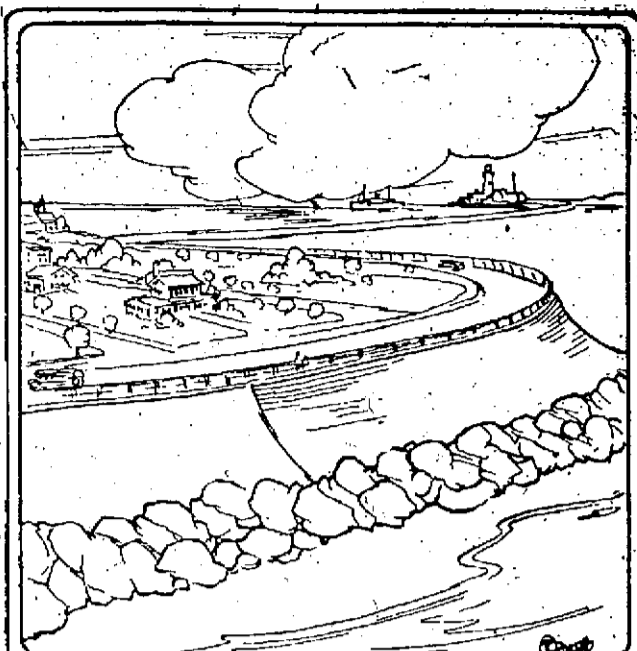

The railroad is advertising for repair men to take the place of those who went on strike in opposition to the cut in pay given by the railroad labor board. By getting new men the railroad expects to be able to cope with any difficulty that might arise. The maintenance of way men are to all.

The city of Lowell received from the district court nearly $3000 more in fines, most of them for liquor violations, for the last quarter which spans the month of April to July, than it did for the first quarter, according to the report of the district clerk of court's office tabulated today by Mrs. Brown. For the first quarter of the year $6997.85 was collected, while from the quarter ending yesterday $8563.33 will be turned over to the city treasurer. The last mentioned sum does not include the total amount collected as $253.12 was paid in, but out of this sum was paid $399.79 for transportation.

The report is made to the treasurer of the commonwealth, the treasurer of Middlesex county and the treasurer of the several townships included in this district. Checks are being mailed today to all responsible parties. For the month of June the treasurer of the commonwealth will receive two checks, one for $99, the result of fines for motor vehicle laws, and the other of $20 for the violation of the fish and game laws. During the quarter ended, $665 is due the treasurer. Of this $645 is for infractions of the auto laws.

The township of Chelmsford was responsible for taking in $100, the fine assessed in one liquor case. It paid out nothing for expenses and is therefore entitled the full $100.

Dracut took in $605. Of this $100 was assessed for carrying a pistol, while the remainder is for the violation of liquor laws. Deducting $12.85 for expenses, the town is entitled to a check of $492.15.

Two Tewksbury violators of the milk laws paid in $100 which goes to the credit of that place. From this $9.52 has been deducted for expenses leaving an amount of $90.48 for Tewksbury to spend.

Tyngsboro netted $35.18 as the result of one drunkenness fine and an assault and battery case. The total fines amounted to $10, but of this $6.82 was claimed as expenses, leaving the above-mentioned residue.

Billerica collected nothing during the last quarter and is therefore entitled to nothing. During the first quarter $205 was collected by that township.

The amount of money collected by the office for writs, small claims, larceny on deposit and other fees was $597.56. The sum of $34.50 was received from defendants to pay witness fees. With a balance of $490.56 brought forward from the first quarter the office had on hand $1002.51. Of this amount the officers' fees came to $76.24 and the witnesses' fees to $328.31. The balance on hand at the present time to start the work of this quarter is $595.96. While a report is made of this fact to the treasurer of the commonwealth, a check is not sent him for the amount, as the money is kept as a working sum and turned in at the end of the year with the annual report.

Does Summer Find You Miserable?

If You Are Tired, Weak, All Worn Out and Have Constant
Backache, It's Time You Gave Yourself Attention

SUMMER! At what other time are conditions so favorable for the thorough enjoyment of good health? Summer days, indeed, should be your best days! 'Tis nature's happy play-time—and you owe yourself a generous share in the pleasures of summer's outdoor exercise and recreation.

But you may be one of countless folks who is missing the joys of health. You get up lame and aching; feel weak, tired and all played out. Every sudden move brings sharp, stabbing pains and when evening comes, you feel too nervous and depressed to rest or relax. Are you one of the unfortunates? You owe it to yourself, then, to find out what is wrong and to lose no time beginning proper corrective treatment. Very likely it's your kidneys.

A lame, aching back with sharp, darting pains, soreness and stiffness, are common symptoms of weakening kidneys. You may have headaches and dizziness, too, and perhaps some annoying bladder irregularities.

Fortunately these symptoms are usually easily corrected, if treated promptly. But there is grave danger in neglect. Don't wait for some serious kidney sickness—begin treating your weakened kidneys today with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"USE DOAN'S" SAY THESE LOWELL FOLKS:

Peter Sheehan, 11 Lyon St., says: "I strained my back and suffered from backache. When I stooped, sharp pains caught me across my kidneys and doubled me up. My kidneys acted too often and the secretions were unnatural. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and after using three boxes bought at Bailey & Co.'s Drug Store, I was cured of the trouble."

Mrs. W. Spauld, 7 Lagrange court, says: "I was laid up with kidney disorder caused by a cold. I could hardly straighten when I stooped, due to the terrible lameness in the small of my back. I could hardly get out of bed in the morning. I was so lame and my kidneys acted unnatural. I suffered from terrible pains in the top of my head and it seemed as though the top of my head was coming off. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them and they soon helped me. I continued until Doan's cured me of all symptoms of kidney trouble."

Systematic Picketing by R. R. Shopmen

BOSTON, July 3.—Systematic picketing of enginehouses, shops and terminals in this district was started today by striking railway shopmen. Union leaders predicted that the number of strikers would be materially increased this morning by the addition of men who were off duty when the strike began. Railway executives said the extent of the walkout could not be determined until Wednesday. They expressed the opinion that many of the shopmen took advantage of the four day holiday and would return to work when it was over. Labor leaders, however, said that Wednesday would find every man out. The employment office of the Boston & Maine reported that 800 men had already been hired to take the jobs of those who walked out.

SUNDAY FIRE ALARMS
A false alarm pulled in from box 47 at 12:21 o'clock yesterday morning gave the firemen a needless run to the corner of Gorham and Moore streets. At 1:12 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm was pulled in from box 15 for a rear fire at 85 Suffolk street. The alarm from box 233 at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon was for a slight blaze in an unoccupied house at the corner of Broadway and Suffolk street.

FIRECRACKER CAUSES $75,000 FIRE

ATTLEBORO, July 3.—Fire, thought to have started from a firecracker, destroyed the lumber mill and tennis racket factory of N. J. Macnaman & Co. on Franklin Avenue early yesterday, causing a loss estimated at $75,000 and throwing 100 persons out of employment.

Firemen Joseph Evans and Charles Batchelder were slightly burned on the head and body.

The portable sawmill owned by Hugh A. Smith on South Main street and located on the George St. John Sheffield estate on North Main street, on the edge of Hunney swamp, was found safe by William Thurston, a passing autoist. It had burned to the ground with a loss of $5000. Spontaneous combustion is ascribed as the cause of this blaze.

At 2:20 o'clock three alarms were sounded for the Maynard fire from box 22 after the fire had been discovered by Harry Mitchell and Joseph McKeon. All the fire apparatus in Attleboro and Plainville were called, but the fire had gained much headway it was impossible for the firemen to prevent the destruction of the plant, a three-story frame building.

Roofs of houses on Smith street, a half-mile away, were burned, catching fire from flying embers. The damage was slight to the buildings.

No one was in the Maynard plant when the fire started. Boys admitted exploding a large firecracker on the spot where the fire started on the first floor.

Concern was felt for the safety of the night watchman, Ernest Reynolds, and firemen vainly searched the ruins for him. It was learned later that he was not working.

$25,000 Brandon Fire

BRANDON, Vt., July 3.—A building on Center street containing several stores was burned early yesterday, causing a loss of $25,000. The blaze started in some fireworks in the variety store of E. N. Lewis.

YALE'S ROWING PROBLEM

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 3.—Early settlement of the rowing problem at Yale and the selection of a rowing committee for the coming year and the timing of a regatta is expected, it is said that the entire situation will be considered this week. Instead of being delayed until August, as had been forecast immediately after the Yale-Harvard regatta.

THIRD MAN DEAD IN STILL EXPLOSION

BOSTON, July 3.—Kadish Kopleman of 160 Orange street, Chelsea, last of the three alleged moonshiners who were burned when a still exploded at Bent street, Cambridge, June 22, died yesterday at the Cambridge City hospital.

The other two men, Alexander Rutstein of 10 Nottingham street, Dorchester, and his brother Samuel of 23 Wampanoag street, Roxbury, died during the past week. Besides the three deaths which resulted from the explosion, six buildings were burned with a loss of $50,000, and scores of families were driven from their homes.

Police say that Alexander Rutstein made a confession just before he died, in which he admitted that he, his brother and a third man, had been making moonshine.

The still was located in the cooperage plant of Gilmore Brothers. When it exploded, the three men ran to the street in flames.

POPULATION OF P. E. ISLAND SHRINKS

OTTAWA, Ont., July 3.—Prince Edward Island and the Yukon territory have suffered losses in population in the last 10 years, according to revised figures of the Canadian decennial census, just made public here. All the other provinces show gains, the Dominion total of 8,788,433 being an increase of 1,591,540 since 1911.

Nova Scotia with 523,837 has the largest population of the Maritime group, having gained 31,449, or 6.40 per cent since 1911. New Brunswick with a population of 387,876 shows a gain of 35,987, or 10.25 per cent, since 1911. Prince Edward Island's population is 55,615, a decrease of 6113, or 10.8 per cent.

Due to a falling off in placer mining activity, Yukon territory declined in population from 5512 in 1911 to 4157 in 1921, a decrease of 51.16 per cent.

The census report places the strength of the Royal Canadian navy at 485.

GIRLS LEAP FROM AUTO

Two Sisters in Serious Condition in Cambridge Hospital

CAMBRIDGE, July 3.—Mary Kane, 13 years old today was in a critical condition at the Cambridge City hospital and her sister, Lillian, 23, was suffering from serious injuries, the result of a leap from an automobile in which the girls had accepted a ride early Sunday morning.

The sisters, with a friend, Miss Mary Lynch, were waiting at a bus stop when two men drove up and offered to drive them home. They accepted and Miss Lynch was left at her residence. When the Kane home in North Brighton was reached, however, the driver refused to stop the machine. The girls jumped and the car continued on its way.

Two men have been arrested in connection with the case.

WOMAN SPURNS EXTRA PARLIAMENT PAY

OTTAWA, Ont., July 3.—Miss Agnes MacPhail, only woman member of the Canadian parliament, has returned to Minister of Finance Fielding $1500 of the $4000 paid her as "sessional indemnity," or salary as a parliamentarian.

"I can use the money," Miss MacPhail explained in a letter to the minister. "Anybody can use $4000. But I object to the increase of the indemnity from $2500 to $4000, at a time when our men are overtaxed and the cry was economy. There is no use preaching economy unless we give two people a lead in economy."

WILL INCREASE SEATING CAPACITY

The seating capacity of the new St. John's church in Pawtucketville will be increased by about 250, and work on the improvements in the building were started this morning. Because of the work going on in the interior of the building there will be no services this week in the chapel.

The seating capacity of the church is about 600 and although several masses are being celebrated there on Sundays, it has been found inadequate to provide for the many parishioners of the district. The partitions separating the two classrooms on the main floor of the building with the church proper, will be removed and new pews will be installed. It is expected that the job will be finished within a couple of weeks.

In order to accommodate the children who attended school in the two classrooms in the church building, the New Moody street school, which was purchased several months ago by St. Joseph's parish from the city, will be thrown open in September and as soon as this is done all the Pawtucketville pupils who are attending St. Joseph's college and convent will be transferred to their own district. The opening of the new school will prove of great benefit for the boys and girls of the district.

How to Play Baseball

Tris Speaker, Indian Star, Tells How He Plays the Outfield

TRIS SPEAKER

By TRIS SPEAKER
Manager of the Cleveland Indians.
An outfielder must be a sure catcher. He must be a good judge of distance. He is fortunate if he has a strong accurate throwing arm. Fleetsness of foot is also a great aid. If a player is endowed with these qualifications he has a great start on the road to success as an outfielder.

Equipped with the elementary assets in outfielding, he makes himself more valuable by bringing his brain into play.
Make a careful study of the batters. Once you get to know whether a batter is a left or right field hitter, it is of the greatest aid in properly placing your field to meet the peculiarities of the hitter.

Where to Play
I have always played a short field. Nature was kind to me and made it as easy for me to go out after a ball as it was for the pitcher to throw it. I have cut off ten hits to every ball that has been knocked over my head by my system of playing in so close.

While I don't want to recommend my style to players who have difficulty going out after a ball, still I feel that it is a good style for a fielder to follow as far as his ability will permit. An outfielder should never return the ball carelessly to the infield. It opens up possibilities for a wise base runner. Return the ball sharply and accurately.

Throwing Hints
Never try to make a play on a runner unless you believe you have a good chance to complete it. Taking a foolish chance by throwing the ball home or to third, often enables the batsman to reach second base and a wasted effort when proper baseball would have been to have thrown the ball to second and held the batsman first.

It is a great asset to a fielder if he is expert on ground balls. If he is weak he should practice constantly. Working on the infield in practice often helps to overcome this fault. Likewise he should practice being able to throw from any position after receiving a fly ball or handling a grounder.

In an endeavor to get Pare at third, Pare scored. Foye stole second, and took third when Cawley failed to catch and Spitz made a poor return to catch Foye off second. The Centralville catcher scored on a wild pitch to McCarthy, who was passed shortly afterward. McCarthy made the third out on a foul fly to Clifford behind the plate.

In the fourth, McLaughlin drove a hot grounder through second, purloining the bag a moment later. Carr caught his fly to left field. Clifford fired out to McCarthy. Doyle hit to left, and McLaughlin scored on a hard return. Doyle going to second. Piggott singled to center, scoring Doyle. Brown struck out, ending the rally for the time being.

After the Centralvilles had been reduced to one run in the last out of the fourth, the Boston combination came up again determined to continue piling up tallies. Egan singled to center, but was forced out by Carr. Stumke, who hit to Poullet, Spitz made the second out by flying to Pare in center. McLaughlin hit to left center, and took second on a throw. Doyle, Stumke reaching third. Carr's hard drive through second scored both runners and placed him on second on the throw to the plate. Carr singled to right and Tyler followed with a drive to Piggott, who made a bad throw in an attempt to get Carr. Second, Walter Foye popped out to second baseman. Then came Cawley, who put the game on ice for the local wrecking crew with a sacrifice bunt. Carr and Cawley, who had easily made third on the hit, followed them in when Piggott made a mess of Carr's quick return.

Not satisfied with a two run lead, Cawley repeated his stunt in the seventh, driving the ball to left. Carr, who was the game spot for three more bases, McSorley followed with a hit of the Texas variety that scored Eddie and the count, 7 to 4. The Mt. Pleasant boys made a gallant attempt to recover their lost ground, but without marked success. In the seventh they secured two consecutive hits, and repeated in the ninth, but to no avail.

PARKEY DALEY JUST MISSES ENTERING BASEBALL'S HALL OF FAME

Twirls C. M. A. C. to 10 to 0 Victory Over St. Joseph's Team of Haverhill—Held Opponents Runless and Hitless for 8 2-3 Innings—Scratch Single Spoils Perfect Performance

Parkey Daley performed an unusual pitching feat last Saturday afternoon when he hurled the C.M.A.C. team to a 10 to 0 victory over the St. Joseph's team of Haverhill on the Textile campus, and barely escaped admittance to the select hall of fame of no-hit, no-run pitchers. For eight and two-third innings not a solitary safe hit was made off of his delivery and it was not until two men had been retired in the ninth that this remarkable performance was marred, and this by a scratch single by Thomas of the visitors who sent the pill sailing through the infield just out of reach of the anxious hands of Tommie Green. It was a lucky hit, but sufficient to spoil the feat of a perfect game by the pitcher of the game only one St. Joseph player reached first base and but two introduced themselves to second. Parkey did not even issue a pass and in the fifth he struck out three men in a row. Superior support on the bases by his team-mates converted many potential hits into outs, a running catch by Green of a high foul fly being one of the many features. "Lefty" Tyler acquitted around the initial sack, getting everything within reach and some which were not.

In the batting department Hubert was in a class by himself with a collection of two-runners, a triple and a single in four trips to the plate. In addition to these he stole third twice and performed to perfection in the outer garden. Williams was also there with the stick. In the eighth he caught his fly to left field, but for a home run, duplicating his feat of the previous week. Daley, besides pitching masterly ball contributed three swats to the B. H. column, one of the many three-base slants. The game opened with the visitors at bat but they were retired in quick order. The C.M.A.C. also failed to register in this inning and it looked as though the home team would be in progress. The local club got going in the second, however, while the St. Josephs remained idle. Green, first up, went out, O'Brien to Descoteaux, but Freeman got two bases when Hickey failed to catch his fly to left field. Hickey fled out to left and Hubert connected for a two-bagger, scoring Freeman. Daley came through with a clean single, but Crowe ended the inning with a high fly to Hickey in left. The third inning was runless for both sides, but the fourth produced the second tally for the locals. Freeman opened it up with a single, but was forced at second when he scooped his fly to double play. Hubert came to the rescue with his second two-bagger and scored on Daley's timely single to left.

The fifth was featureless for both sides. In the sixth Freeman dug and went to third on Marcotte's single. Marcotte started for second on the first pitch and Dufour showed poor judgment by attempting to nail him with a man on third. As it happened there was no doo consequence to receive the throw and both Freeman and Marcotte scored on the miscue. In this inning Hubert made his third consecutive hit, a single, but was caught napping off second by the home side. The sixth inning was counted in the following manner when Williams dismayed the Haverhillites with a homer onto Riverside street. All this while the down-river players could do nothing with Daley's delivery.

The real fireworks came in the eighth. Hubert hit for three bases and Daley did likewise. Crowe got a life when Crowley mishandled his ground ball. Crowe stole second and with Daley, scored a moment later on Williams' single. Pare sacrificed Williams to second and a two-base hit by Tyler scored "Top". Green then hit to right field, scoring Tyler and Freeman ended the game by flying out to right. Five runs were scored in this inning.

Things looked bright for Daley up to the last minute. Two easy outs in the visitors' last turn at bat looked encouraging for a no-hit game, but the fates were with Timmins and his bat struck the pill for a roller between third and short. However, it was a good game from a C.M.A.C. angle and Parkey deserves a world of credit for his accomplishment. Manager Marcotte announces that the C.M.A.C. team will play the strong Smith and Dove outfit of Andover next Saturday on the Textile campus. The latter team is the runner up in the Lawrence Twilight League.

MANY HOMERS OVER WEEK-END

Babe Ruth Made His Fourth in Three Games Saturday and 12th of Season

Tillie Walker Makes His Tenth Four in Last Two Games—Williams' 20th

NEW YORK, July 3.—Apparently spurred to greater exploits by a sudden spurt on the part of Babe Ruth, home run sluggers of both leagues fattened their totals in a week-end that reverberated with circuit blows. Ruth, in his real stride for the first time this season, hammered out his fourth homer in three games and his 12th of the season while the Yankees were taking their fourth straight from Philadelphia, 9 to 3. Overshadowing even the Ruthian achievement was the record of Tillie Walker, who cracked out a brace of circuit blows, making his total four in the last two games and bringing his season's total to 17, only three behind Ken Williams of St. Louis, the leader.

Ruth collected a homer in the first game of a double header at Philadelphia Saturday and two more in the second game in which six were made altogether.

Scouting danger to his crown, Williams walloped out his 20th four base drive yesterday and helped the Browns take their four in a row from Cleveland.

St. Louis and Brooklyn each gained a full game on the Giants in the National League race as a result of double victories over Cincinnati and Boston, respectively, while the leaders were idle. Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals after having increased his home run total to 12, Zach Wheat added the Dodgers in the second game with his 10th circuit pop.

The Detroit Tigers recovered their batting eyes and checked Chicago's winning streak of eight games, trouncing the White Sox, 12 to 5. Walter Johnson of the Senators, who had pitched for three games, was ended when the Boston Red Sox beat Washington, 2 to 1.

Alexander the Great was in old-time form and the Cubs easily downed Bill McKechnie's Pirates, 5 to 1.

BELEATED TOURISTS ARRIVE ON LACONIA
BOSTON, July 3.—Hundreds of beleated tourists, who left Liverpool on the Cunard steamship Samaria, were landed here yesterday after being 18 days at sea.

When the Samaria broke down and returned to Liverpool the passengers were transferred to Liverpool Bar Mores, at the mouth of the River Mersey, to the Laconia, which had cleared for New York, but was held on wireless instructions to take the travelers from the Samaria.

Although they had been 18 days at sea, the passengers landed here yesterday were in good humor and had nothing but words of praise for the officials of the Cunard Line in general and the officers of the Laconia in particular.

A resolution was drawn up and signed by every passenger of importance on the Samaria expressing the gratitude of all on board that vessel to Capt. Irvine and the officers and crew of the Samaria.

The Laconia had 59 saloon passengers, 125 second-class and 257 third-class passengers for Boston. In addition to 31 saloon, 126 second-class and 233 third-class passengers for New York. Some of those destined for New York took advantage of the brief stay of the steamer at this port to make a quick connection by train with their homes.

Among the first-emb passengers was Capt. H. G. Nobbs, an officer of the British Infantry during the war, who was blinded by the explosion of a shell while leading an attack in France and was for months in the hospital. He is totally sightless. Capt. Nobbs has written an interesting story of his experiences during the war.

Col. William A. Gaston was on the pier to meet his wife and daughter, Hope, who were among the Samaria's passengers brought in by the Laconia. Mrs. Gaston's first inquiry was in regard to the political situation here.

Col. and Mrs. Gaston left New York April 14 on the White Star liner Homeric, bringing back their daughter, who has been studying six months in Paris. Col. Gaston was compelled to return before his wife and daughter.

Among the passengers was a group of pretty English girls who came over to be married. They were met at the pier by their intended husbands. They were Esther C. Robinson of Glasgow, who will marry McKie, an engineer, of Wollaston; Annie Edmunds of Birmingham, who will become the wife of Samuel Alcott of 67 Emma street, New Bedford; Elsie Hinch of Redditch, who will marry Thomas W. Baylis of Lexington, and Ethel Morley of Yorkshire, who will marry George Melrose of Leominster.

Fame comes quickly in baseball. It slips away just as rapidly. For further information consult Babe Ruth. Four years ago Clarence Mueller was errand boy around the clubhouse of the St. Louis Cardinals. Today no youngster has a brighter future in baseball than Clarence Mueller, unless a serious injury to one of his legs plays havoc with his chance.

His job as errand boy around the clubhouse gave the youngster a chance to mingle with the players, work out with them in morning practice and before the game.

Mueller is an ambitious youth. During his kid days Johnny Tobin of the St. Louis Browns was the youngster's idol. He has observed the play of Tobin for years and today he does a great many things on the ball field after the style of the Browns star outfielder.

Mueller's cleverness in morning practice caught the eye of Manager Branch Rickey. Incidentally Mueller informed Rickey about that time that he would like to get a chance to play professional ball.

Rickey signed Mueller to a St. Louis contract last season, but turned him out to the Syracuse club of the international league to gain experience.

It didn't take Mueller long to prove his ability. In the first 15 games he played for Syracuse he batted .369. His work caused Rickey to recall him in the National League in 1921 he played 55 games and batted .352.

BILLERICA NEWS
American Legion Plans Big Bonfire This Evening
The American Legion's celebration of the Fourth at Billerica will consist of a bonfire on the Kohlhausch playground in the North Village this evening. The huge pile of lumber, which consists mostly of railroad ties furnished free by the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., and a number of empty barrels, is located on the third base side of the field. The match will be applied at midnight and members of the fire department as well as one piece of apparatus will be on hand as a matter of precaution. The affair has been organized by the auxiliary and it is expected a large number of residents of the village will be on hand to witness the spectacle.

Appointed Currier
Newell A. Ritchie, a former member of The Sun staff and a resident of the North Village, where he is the proprietor of a automobile accessory shop, has been appointed permanent rural free delivery carrier for that portion of the town, to succeed Charles Bradley, who resigned some time ago. Soon after the resignation of Mr. Bradley, Mr. Ritchie was given a temporary appointment to the position and some time ago a public examination was held for the position. Mr. Ritchie was one of the seven contestants who took the examination and he came out high man. His appointment was made permanent a few days ago. Mr. Ritchie is a native of Billerica and a prominent member of Billerica post, 115, American Legion.

Selection to Meet
The regular meeting of the board of selectmen will be held this evening in the Centre town hall. Considerable business is to be brought to the attention of the board.

There is joy even in undergoing a surgical operation!
Radio has made it possible.
The idea came recently to surgeons of the Emergency Hospital, at Washington, D. C. They installed a radio receiving set in the operating room. At first the surgeons had trouble inducing their patients to enjoy a radio concert while being operated on. The subjects saw no fun in it. But the choice was either, chloroform, or radio, and soon a girl chose radio.

A broadcasting station was tuned in, the receivers placed over the patient's ears and the surgeon prepared his instruments.
All the girl said was, "I can hear perfectly."

While the concert entertained the patient, the surgeon completed the operation.
All the girl said was, "I can hear perfectly."
